Terrorist Activity Biggest Problem In Vietnam: Lodge

SAIGON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge considers "the real cancer in Vietnam" is the terrorist inner circle.

"If we could destroy this terrorist inner circle, the war would be virtually over," the U.S. ambassador said in a wide-ranging interview with The Associated Press.

The diplomat, 64, will turn over the American Embassy to Ellsworth Bunker later this month and leave for Washington and a new post as ambassador-at-large.

"The hard-core professional terrorists who dress and look like everybody else are the biggest problem facing us now," he said.

Counter-terrorism poses problems for the allies, Lodge said. "Because that's what we're least good at. But we're making progress."

"The Viet Cong are effective, not because the people prefer them but because of terrorism. When you beat main-force Communist units in Vietnam—as we have been doing—you have a good hunting license to go after terrorists," he said.

The ambassador cited Operation Cedar Falls, in Binh Duong Province north of Saigon, and Operation Junction City in War Zone C northwest of this city among spectacular successes against main-force units so far this year. Such operations ultimately will lower American casualties, he said.

In the same connection he had said in a Washington interview Jan. 12: "I believe the purely military part of the war—which is what American forces are engaged in—will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining."

Lodge praised efforts by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky to eliminate bribery and kindred evils in the conduct of the war. He suggested elections would help and progress would continue.

On the economic front Lodge said: "We and the Vietnamese stayed off runaway inflation in all sorts of ways, including selling rice off the backs of trucks to eliminate the middlemen."

"Outside Vietnam, he said, the most serious problem 'is the remarkable success of Communist propaganda.'"

"Their propaganda made it seem perfectly reasonable for them to ask us to stop the bombing—in other words, give up our trump card—while they do nothing in return," he said.

"If the lack of substance behind Hanoi's future propaganda efforts could really be barred—and Hanoi were convinced of this—then this might in and of itself bring an end to the war."

Lodge said there had been "a great evolution and change for the better" since he first came to Vietnam in October, 1963, for the first of his two tours of duty.

Six nurses have already been flown out of Hue, 50 miles below the border, and a general exodus could affect 54 other American civilians on duty in the northern centers.

Dangers were reflected in the North Vietnamese raid that overran a South Vietnamese police post Wednesday: the Communists' psychological victory in a bloody attack that overran much of the provincial capital of Quang Tri Thursday; and distribution of propaganda by a Viet Cong band that infiltrated Hue, the old imperial capital.

The evidence of concern about the border territory developed as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government awaited a response from the Communists to a proposal for a 24-hour truce on Buddha's birthday May 23.

The Saigon regime issued its suggestion with allied concurrence and proposed that representatives of the North and South meet at the Ben Hai River Bridge, on the border within the demilitarized zone, to consider a possible extension. Government leaders have said previously they would meet with the top Communists anywhere, anytime.

Buddhism is the religion professed by most Vietnamese of both nations. A May 23 truce would be the fourth in five months. Others, all marked by shooting incidents, were held over Christmas, New Year's and the lunar new year. Tet, in February.

In Washington, White House press secretary George Christian said the South Vietnamese would like to do it. It involves their religious principles, so it is their initiative.

VC Shell, Raid U.S. Base Camp In Highlands

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong rained 80 rounds of mortar fire on a base camp of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division Sunday and followed up with a probing attack on a security outpost guarding the central highlands camp.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said nine Americans were killed and 15 wounded in the outpost fighting that lasted 30 minutes. The base camp of the helicopter-borne division is at An Khe where a spokesman said two cavalrymen were wounded by the mortar shelling and there was light damage to helicopters.

The spokesman said the mortar shelling lasted eight minutes. Gunship helicopters opened fire on the enemy mortar sites and pilots reported a large secondary explosion, indicating hits on enemy ammunition.

Only one other significant ground action was reported by the U.S. Command.

This was near Bong Son of the central coast where other units of the 1st Cavalry clashed in sporadic fighting for more than nine hours Saturday with an enemy force estimated at company strength, or about 115 men.

The U.S. Command reported 23 Communists killed and reported U.S. casualties at 19 killed and 28 wounded.

In air raids over North Vietnam on Saturday, U.S. Air Force pilots hit at anti-aircraft sites northwest of Hanoi and reported destroying two sites and damaging others. Navy fighters from the aircraft carrier Enterprise attacked a storage area 57 miles east-northeast of Haiphong and reported a large secondary explosion.

In South Vietnam, B-52 bombers staged three raids Saturday night and Sunday morning. Two of the raids hit troop concentrations in the A Shau Valley 27 miles southwest of Hue in the northern part of the country.

The third raid struck at an enemy supply depot in War Zone C near the Cambodian border.

In South Vietnam's northern provinces, arrangements have been made to remove all American civilians from Hue and Quang Tri if continued Communist operations make it necessary, U.S. spokesmen disclosed Saturday.

Washington, White House press secretary George Christian said the South Vietnamese would like to do it. It involves their religious principles, so it is their initiative.

The board has not been able to pinpoint the cause definitely because so much evidence was destroyed in the flash fire that seared the Apollo 1 cabin during a launch pad test Jan. 27. Three or four other possible sources of ignition will be listed.

The fire killed Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee. They were practicing for a planned orbit test flight in America's Space Administration and contractor management of the program.

The board will make extensive recommendations on redesigning the Apollo spacecraft and changing testing procedures. It also is expected to criticize National Aeronautics and Space Administration and contractor management of the program.

Dr. Floyd L. Thompson, chairman of the board of review, said the report will be presented simultaneously about 3 p.m. Sunday to NASA Administrator James E. Webb, members of the Senate and House Space committees and to newsmen.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey of Connecticut who heard the speech, said he couldn't quarrel with it—although Romney "could have been firmer" in support of Johnson.

"President Johnson will win next year against anybody," Bailey said.

One influential Republican said Romney had strengthened his standings as an undeclared candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., who could become a presidential rival, agreed with Romney that the United States cannot withdraw from Vietnam.

To Air Report Today Of Apollo Disaster

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A blue ribbon board of review is expected to list an electrical malfunction as the probable cause of the Apollo 1 fire when it presents its final report on the tragedy Sunday.

The board has not been able to pinpoint the cause definitely because so much evidence was destroyed in the flash fire that seared the Apollo 1 cabin during a launch pad test Jan. 27. Three or four other possible sources of ignition will be listed.

Call Lockout Amid Strikes By Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide trucking shutdown in retaliation for scattered Teamsters Union strikes started going into effect Saturday night, an industry spokesman said.

The spokesman for Trucking Employers, Inc., representing 1,500 of the nation's largest firms, said companies around the nation already were turning away drivers reporting for work.

Meanwhile, national contract negotiations continued with federal mediators, with no indication of major progress.

The industry shutdown that will affect an estimated 65 percent of the nation's truck-freight traffic began going into effect at least an hour before the official midnight lockout was scheduled.

The industry spokesman said the effects of the shutdown, which the Teamsters branded as an effort to get antistrike legislation from Congress, already were being felt in some cities.

The full impact would become clearer Monday, the spokesman said.

Earlier an industry spokesman had said the shutdown by truckers, will affect all industrial and manufactured supplies.

Gordon Knapp, spokesman for Trucking Employers, Inc., said shipment of food won't be too adversely affected. He explained the association doesn't represent small shippers of food and most companies have their own trucks and drivers and make their own deliveries.

Knapp said emergency items, such as hospital supplies, won't be affected, either.

He added that the lockout will affect the construction industry and department store supplies, such as appliances.

But even as the threat of what could develop into the nation's worst transportation tie-up hung over the bargaining table, federal mediators resumed national contract talks with representatives of both sides in the dispute.

There was no immediate sign that the government plans an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction against the threatened shutdown, which would immediately tie up at least 65 percent of the nation's truck-freight traffic. Presumably officials were awaiting an actual shutdown before deciding what steps to take.

"The shutdown is to commence at 12 midnight," said President M.M. Gordon of Trucking Employers, Inc., representing 1,500 of the biggest firms in the national negotiations which involve a total of 450,000 workers in 12,000 firms.

"Certainly we would call it off" if all strikes end and the Teamsters Union promises to stop all future walkouts, Gordon replied to a question at a news conference.

Teamsters General Vice President Frank Fitzsimmons said, "Despite employer announcements of widespread strikes, at the moment these have been limited to nine of the thousands of the nation's truck terminals."

Fitzsimmons's statement said the scattered walkouts are in support of legal demands for an 11-cent, cost-of-living pay hike already due under the old contract and that the Teamsters national bargaining committee "has not called a strike."

Brussels, Belgium (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey began final talks of his European tour Saturday and looked ahead to a day of rest before flying home. Chief topics here are the European Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

LBJ Prepares For Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson expects neither surprises nor spectacular developments from his meeting this week with Latin-American chiefs at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

White House sources gave this advance word as Johnson prepared to take off Monday night on his 5,000-mile trip to the first hemisphere wide summit session of this decade.

The avowed aim of the April 12-14 gathering of some 20 heads of state is to breathe new life into the broad, U.S.-aided economic development campaign begun in 1961 under the title Alliance for Progress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson flew to his Camp David mountain retreat Saturday to do some advance homework for this week's hemisphere summit meeting and get in some relaxation in the sun.

Accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and some staff aides specializing in inter-American affairs, Johnson flew by helicopter to the presidential lodge in Maryland's Catocin Mountains.

Johnson hopes for a psychological boost for the alliance from the parley. He is prepared to offer U.S. support to those Latin-American leaders who pledge more self-help efforts—even though Congress didn't pass an advance resolution backing Johnson on this.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the other foreign ministers are meeting again this weekend in Punta del Este to polish up the six-point, mainly economic agenda. Such painstaking preparatory work, which has been going on for months, continues.

The proposals before the presidents at Punta del Este involve steps which must be carried out mainly by the Latin Americans themselves. U.S. help can be only marginal.

For example, the plan for a Latin-American common market may involve some U.S. technical advice and funds to assist in the economic adjustment. But the major actions in wiping out tariffs and coping with the resulting domestic economic dislocations—plus the political consequences at home—must be taken by the Latin Americans themselves.

The delegation from Ecuador, a nation on this continent's northwest coast with nearly five million people, asked for "more ample participation of the United States in the financing of national development plans, within the framework of the Alliance for Progress," the informants said.

The sources said the Ecuadorians made their bid soon after the foreign ministers session opened.

U.S. officials had been hoping the Latin Americans would place emphasis on trade and pull themselves out of poor-national status through a common market and improved conditions for exports. One American official said President Johnson would be inclined to make a major concession in this direction.

Boycott Threatened

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Ecuador, one of South America's less-developed nations, threatened Saturday to boycott the hemisphere summit conference this week unless President Johnson agrees to discuss turning the Alliance for Progress into a virtual Marshall Plan, the gigantic postwar U.S. program that helped restore Europe.

Diplomatic informants said the Ecuadorian delegation made its threat in a closed-door meeting of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and hemisphere foreign ministers working on the agenda for the conference which opens Wednesday in this south Atlantic sea resort.

The informants said Rusk and his delegation appeared far from pleased with the bid for massive U.S. aid. The reported Ecuadorian move also apparently marked a reversal of a trend reported by a U.S. source earlier—that the Latin Americans leaned more toward selling more of their products on the U.S. market than in money aid from Washington.

The sources said the Ecuadorians made their bid soon after the foreign ministers session opened.

VIRGINIA — Marsha Gabehart, of Chandlerville, won the Cass County Spelling Bee, Tuesday afternoon at the Virginia High School, with 22 contestants throughout the county.

Marsha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gabehart and Mr. Paul Weinstein is her teacher. Ronald Petefish, of Ashland, was second with Sara Allen as his teacher. Pat Hardy, of Ashland, fourth; Karen Krohe, of St. John's Lutheran Church, Beardstown, fourth; Mary Devlin, of Virginia, fifth; Margaret Hays, of Virginia, sixth.

Words that were misspelled by the contestants were: merely, league, abrupt, continent, bridle, gnarled, minimum, tassel, sheriff, precede, oddity, suspicious, wrought, responsible, orator, cordial, wry, rift, trafficking, majestic, impetus, nauseous. The correct spelling of populous and lacerated made Marsha Gabehart champion speller of Cass county.

B. W. Smith, Cass County Superintendent of Schools, presented ribbons to the six winners as awards in the contest. The judges of the Spelling Bee were Farrell McGinnis, principal of the Chambersburg Junior High School; Mrs. Wilma Adkins, Ashland, and Mrs. Betty Jane Herzberger, of Beardstown.

Mr. Stretch Miller, Spelling Bee Director of the Peoria Journal Star, pronounced the words. He presented Marsha Gabehart with a trophy. She is now eligible to enter a 22 county Spelling Bee, sponsored by the Peoria Journal Star on Saturday, May 13 at 11:00 a.m.

The winner of this contest will go to the National Spelling Bee, which will be held in Washington, D.C. June 5-8, 1967.

Mr. Lee Savage, of Hot Springs, Arkansas, was a Tuesday afternoon guest of Mrs. Fred D. Savage.

DR. BRANT NAMED VP OF PODIATRY SOCIETY
Dr. Jerry D. Brant of 11 Westgate Circle was elected second vice president of the Illinois Podiatry Society, the state organization for foot specialists, at the Society's annual meeting April 7 at the Pick-Congress Hotel in Chicago.

Donna Summers J. Roger Riggs Exchange Vows

A local couple, Miss Donna Jean Summers and Second Lieutenant J. Roger Riggs were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on March 26th at the Brooklyn Methodist church. The Rev. Roy M. Doll officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Forrest R. Dayton of Huntington, New York and Leo Summers of Eldridge, Iowa. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Riggs, 1507 South Clay avenue.

Miss Sandy Doll was at the organ for the prelude and guests were seated by Ted Deen and James Conover.

Mrs. Nancy Jo Bates, sister of the groom and James Burke attended the couple.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Cleo Summers of Winchester, the bride wore a lovely white brocade ensemble. A matching coat covered a sheath cut street length dress. A petal headpiece held her shoulder length veil of illusion and she wore white pean slippers and carried a white orchid with her white prayer book.

Mrs. Bates wore aqua crepe on Empire lines, with a matching color net headpiece and white accessories. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Cleo Summers was in a blue and white 3-piece costume with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore navy with a navy and white hat and black patent accessories. Each wore a corsage of gardenias.

After the ceremony members

TICKETED FRIDAY

A Pleasant Plains driver was cited following an accident at the intersection of South Main and Beecher streets about 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Ticketed was Herman H. Raman of route two, Pleasant Plains, the driver of a west-bound auto on Beecher, that pulled into the path of a south-bound auto on South Main, driven by Norman A. Hooey of 593 West College.

The United States possessed the greatest merchant fleet of all time at the end of World War II, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

of the wedding party and the immediate families attended a reception at the home of the groom's parents. Assisting were Mrs. James Conover and Miss Chris Jones.

The newlyweds spent several days in the south and leave today for Enid, Oklahoma where the groom is stationed at Vance A.F. Base.

Both are graduates of Jacksonville High School where the bride was a member of the class of 1966 and the groom was of the class of 1961. He received his degree from Illinois College in 1966 and recently completed Officers Training School at Medina Base, San Antonio, Texas and was commissioned Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force. Seeing Is Believing RUSHVILLE — Mrs. Imogene Newell of Rushville, who with her husband spent the Easter weekend with her daughter and family, the Robert Draines of St. Paul, Minnesota, returned home a firm believer in flying saucers.

In a letter to this newspaper Mrs. Newell wrote "Shirley and I on this Friday evening went to a shopping area a few minutes after 8 p.m. When we came out of the parking area between 8:30 and 9 p.m. and pulled out onto the highway I saw a flying object, directly above the house tops. My daughter immediately pulled off to the side of the highway and she also saw the object. We drove to a side street and got out to observe it.

Shaped Like Saucer

It was only a distance of a half mile or less from us. It was shaped like an ornament used on top of a Christmas tree, or two saucers upside down and put together. It gave off a brilliant light, like a light bulb, never flickering. At one time the object remained stationary for a period of three or four minutes and then glided on. It was never over a thousand feet above the ground when it went out of our sight."

Mrs. Newell went on to say that when she returned to Rushville a letter awaited her from her mother, Mrs. Effie Johnson who is visiting her son Dr. Kermit K. Johnson and family in Bradenton, Florida.

Enclosed in the letter was an article by the author of "White Sands Incident," Dr. Daniel W. Fry, who rode on a flying saucer. He was in Florida on vacation, but was immediately inveigled into speaking in as many cities as could be crowded into his vacation stay.

Dr. Fry was employed by Aerojet General Corporation at the White Sands Proving Grounds near Las Cruces, New Mexico, when his now famous experience with a saucer took place. He is a rocket and missile engineer and designed a number of parts for the guidance system of the Atlas missile.

Mrs. Hanback Wins Scott Post On School Board

By Naomi Lawson
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone 742-3490)

WINCHESTER — A Winchester woman defeated an incumbent school board member according to unofficial election results from Scott County District #1 Saturday evening.

Jacqueline Hanback, employed by the state department of rehabilitation in Jacksonville, ousted incumbent Robert Reid, a Scott county hog raiser.

Unofficial returns were Hanback 171, Reid 168, and Andrew Sauer, 255.

Sauer, also an incumbent, ran without opposition, because Hanback and Reid were both from township 14, range 12. Sauer, a Scott county farmer, and member of the board for three terms, is from township 14, range 13.

The unofficial total of votes cast was 356.

Press Search For Missing Towboat Worker

BEARDSTOWN — Rescue units, searching for a towboat worker missing since the small boat in which he and two other men were riding capsized near Browning Friday evening, are expected to resume dragging operations this morning.

The Beardstown Rescue squad was joined Saturday by area game wardens and rescue units from three counties in a search which lasted until 5 p.m.

The name of the missing man, said to be about 30 years old and a resident of Greenville, Miss., is being withheld.

Authorities said the man apparently planned to board the towboat James Ferris as it traveled upriver and had been picked up by a motor boat sent from the Ferris as it neared Beardstown at 5:40 p.m. Friday.

The boat, carrying two deck hands from the Ferris, arrived in Beardstown to meet the worker and was later swamped while attempting to overtake the larger craft about six and a half miles north of Beardstown.

The Beardstown Rescue Squad was summoned at 8 p.m. when another towboat, the E. E. Smith, reported picking up the two deck hands as they swam near the scene of the accident. The Smith continued downstream after reporting the two safely on board.

Rivermen said the boat capsized in high water and strong current.

Authorities said the boat, a 13-foot craft powered by a ten horsepower motor, appeared to have struck a floating object, possibly a buoy, before capsizing.

The two deck hands, who rejoined the Ferris in Peoria Saturday, were questioned in an effort to pinpoint the search area before dragging is resumed today.

include a halt in the bombing of the North. It was made clear, however, that U.S. air and naval forces would be turned loose to strafe swiftly if the North Vietnamese tried to use such a truce to food, arms and supplies to Communist forces in South Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese proposal contained a clause calling for safeguards to see that the Communists don't utilize the period to speed extra supplies to their troops, as they have been accused of doing during previous cease-fires.

The allies acknowledged that they have carried out "routine resupply operations" in these periods.

In Quang Tri, 16 miles south of the demilitarized zone, American civilian employees of the government have moved from 14 houses into nine. A spokesman characterized this as a consolidation. Two civilians were wounded in the Communist attack Thursday, in which 10 American soldiers were killed.

American civilians and other foreigners were evacuated from Hue twice last spring during a series of civil disorders. The Saigon government temporarily lost all control over the city of 105,000. The U.S. consulate and U.S. Information Service library were sacked and burned by mobs.

The U.S. Command reported only light contact in scattered engagements in the ground war Saturday. It announced three search-and-destroy operations have been terminated. At least 16 other campaigns were still under way.

Viet Cong road mines claimed another Vietnamese bus. A U.S. spokesman said the explosion killed 10 civilians and injured 15 other Vietnamese, including a soldier.

and crashed into the slum with an explosion that set fire to 30 houses holding about 70 families. All on board the plane were killed.

The explosion rocked a high school 50 yards from the crash site and students jumped from second-floor classrooms. Thirteen of them were hurt.

Firemen were unable to contain the fire in the slum with any speed because alleys were too narrow for fire equipment.

The air force said the twin-engine plane developed trouble with its right engine shortly after taking off and the pilot apparently was trying to return to base when the plane crashed. It had been in the air only about five minutes. The pilot, Capt. Suh Keun-joo, was a veteran with 2,151 hours flying time.

Debris from the plane was picked up 450 yards from the impact point.

The slum is inhabited mainly by laborers, many of whom had stayed at home because of the inclement weather.

on's couch. The fire started in that area and spread rapidly through the cabin. The astronauts died of carbon monoxide poisoning within 20 seconds after the first report of the blaze.

Some experts believe the pilots might have lived longer if Grissom had pushed a lever to depressurize the cabin, which was pressurized with 100 per cent oxygen. There has been no explanation why Grissom failed to take this emergency action as he was supposed to. Pure oxygen aids the spread of fire and depressurization might have slowed it.

However, the experts said depressurization probably would not have saved the astronauts because at least 90 seconds would have been required to open the spacecraft from inside or out.

John C. Pratt Of Kilbourne Dies At Age 63

HAVANA — John C. Pratt, 63, of Kilbourne passed away at 5 a.m. Friday at Mason District hospital in Havana.

He was born in Cass County Aug. 14, 1903; son of Charles A. and Ida Pherigo Pratt. He was married Oct. 1, 1927 to the former Ida Towery, who survives.

Also surviving are seven sons: Charles of Kilbourne, John of Havana, James and Larry, both of Petersburg, Daniel of Fort Bragg, N.C., Ronald and Stanley, at home; five daughters: Mrs. Ethel Preze and Mrs. Myrtles McClure, both of Moline; Mrs. Wanda Cline of Indianapolis, Mrs. Edith Noll, Springfield and Mrs. Julia Griffin, Kilbourne and 26 grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Myrtles Lee of Oakford and Mrs. Julia Keithley of Atwater, Calif. and one brother, Everett Pratt of Oakford.

Four brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at the Hurley Funeral Home

Sponsors Urge Tree Fund Gifts; Planting Nears

As local "green thumbs" take to their yards and gardens, sponsors of the Jacksonville Tree Fund reminded local residents of the need for young trees to grace city boulevards, parks and cemeteries.

During the past week, contributions to the campaign raised the total to $735.

With a snap in the weather over the weekend, planting of trees will probably be delayed for while longer, until extra insurance for warmer weather can be guaranteed.

Sponsors of the second fund drive, the Pilot club and Jacksonville Journal Courier, are in hopes of being able to raise enough funds to replant several areas of the city, left vacant when elms were removed.

Those contributions received during the week were:

In Memory of Judy Crawford Syre $10
Harold and Bea Tholen $10
Mr. and Mrs. Edith Haywood $5
Dr. and Mrs. Walter M. Furst $5

Total $735
Grand Total $735

Tunnel Rats Become Muddy Water Rats

By AL CHIANG

DUC HOA, Vietnam (AP) — Wolfhounds of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, once known as tunnel rats, have become water rats in the Plain of Reeds.

For a month they have been up to their hips in water and mud of the plain, which flanks the Mekong River delta from a point 10 miles west of Saigon to the Cambodian frontier.

They are waging a campaign of a type American troops will be seeing more and more of as they move into the delta.

The enemy has seemed to be everywhere, shooting from the tree lines. But they are rarely found when the Americans close in. Two battalions of the Wolfhounds, the nickname for the 25th Division's 27th Infantry Regiment, moved to the edge of the Plain of Reeds at the beginning of March with the assignment of stopping the flow of Viet Cong replacements along the main route east from Cambodia. They knew there were at least two battalions of Viet Cong in the watery wastelands.

After months of chasing Viet Cong in and out of relatively dry tunnels in the Hobo Woods and on abandoned rubber plantations, the infantrymen found themselves wading through deep canals and squishing through soupy miles of mud. Maj. Harvey Perritt of Alexandria, Va., moved his men by helicopter one day last week to keep up with the elusive prey.

"We know we're up against a provincial battalion," he said. "We just have to go in and root them out. They're big, well-fed, healthy and well-equipped, and they never seem to run out of ammunition."

A platoon led by Lt. Ed Cravey, Houston, Tex., had discovered a bast camp that yielded 5,000 pounds of rice, a large cache of documents, 10 pounds of medical supplies, a large amount of clothing and some ammunition and grenades.

"We blew her sky high," said the lieutenant.

Moving with the 1st Battalion through water up to our waists toward an objective about three miles away, there seemed to be no place for a Viet Cong to hide from a spotter plane circling overhead. Specifically sought was an enemy platoon, about 40 men.

Suddenly automatic weapons and small arms fire broke out against a platoon toward the rear of the advancing arc of infantrymen. One company moved quickly into a flanking position to cover the harassed GIs with a blanket of rifle and machine-gun fire.

As the Americans moved toward the enemy position, Sgt. I.C.R. Ikner of Laurinburg, N.C., saw several men jump from a boat in the canal and run off across the opposite bank. Ikner swam to the boat, climbed aboard and found two enemy rifles, fully loaded, and an ammunition pouch.

In water up to their necks, Cravey's platoon crossed the canal. They found nothing.

"We can't stay here all day," Maj. Perritt said. "We got to keep moving."

Two hours later, the Americans had their first casualties. Working their way through a pineapple field, one man tripped a booby trap, wounding himself and two others.

As the medics worked over them, enemy machine-gun fire erupted from the tree line. GIs silenced the gun while a medical evacuation helicopter plucked out the wounded.

LOUISE JONES HAS STUDY FOR ROODHOUSE CWF

ROODHOUSE — Louise Jones presented the study and worship theme "Appalachia-Where-Why-What" at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the CWF at the Christian Church. She was assisted by Helen Watkins, Sarah Sheppard, Bessie Rees and Betty Benner. Margaret Coffman was the worship leader. Presiding over the business session was Elayne Ferguson, vice president. The meeting adjourned with prayer. Hostess for the day was Betty Benner.

Roodhouse Notes
Guy Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Manning and Terry Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Sheppard, Jr., seniors at North Greene, participated in the fraternity spring rush at the University of Illinois, Urbana, the last weekend. The local boys were accompanied by Dennis Wyatt of White Hall, who also participated.

Galen Ross Lawson arrived Saturday night at Scott Air Force Base for a 30-day leave which he will spend with his mother, Mrs. Virginia Alred and family and with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Tuck. He has been stationed in Japan for the last two years.

Cancer Patients Put Into 'Life Islands'

By FRANK CAREY

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cancer patients are being isolated in virtually germ-proof plastic tents, called "life islands," in a new approach toward aiding the war on malignancy, a government scientist said recently.

There is tentative evidence the method may at least prolong life in some cases, he indicated. Patients bedded in such tents shave with sterilized razors, eat sterilized food, and even read sterilized newspapers.

These materials are inserted into the tents through double "locks" in the plastic which are bathed by germ-killing ultraviolet rays, said Dr. Seymour Perry of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md.

Doctors and nurses insert their arms through gauntlet-type gloves in both sides of the tent. Patients can even get weighed or be given X rays without leaving the enclosure. Perry told about the novel system in a report to an American Cancer Society seminar for science writers.

He gave this background and progress report:

Paradoxically, the treatments used to combat cancers and leukemia such as X rays and certain drugs tend to predispose patients to infection, as well as hemorrhaging, and both can be life-threatening.

Hemorrhaging complications have been reduced by the use of so-called "blood-platelet" transfusions. Infection is still the major cause of death in such patients.

So, the "life-island" technique is under trial at the National Cancer Institute with two aims:

1. To protect the patient from complicating infection, and
2. To test a concept that under such virtually germ-proof conditions patients can be given much larger doses of cancer-fighting chemicals than they otherwise would safely tolerate — thus improving the treatment of malignancy.

Local Librarian Named Chairman Of Recruitment

A recruitment network has been established by the American Library Association to help meet the need for trained librarians. Miss Dorothy Fenton, head librarian of the Jacksonville Public Library, has been asked to serve as chairman for Morgan County. She is placing a display of materials describing library careers in the library and has also sent information to counselors and principals in schools in the county. She will be glad to interview persons who are interested in library careers. Included in the display are pamphlets describing various types of activities in library careers in public, college, school and other libraries. Information on financial assistance for those considering a library career is also available. Igor Sikorsky flew the first successful helicopter on Sept. 14, 1939.

'No Doubt About It, The Earth Is Flat'

DOVER, England (AP) — "Of course the earth's not round," said Samuel Shenton. "It's flat." "No man knows the ultimate shape of the earth," he replied, "but that portion that we live on is most definitely flat." "No man will ever know what the whole complexity is like, I suppose, because it goes beyond his sphere of observation, investigation and comprehension." Speaking very slowly, patiently, even gently, he added: "The small area that we occupy is actually deep within the earth, and yields to water levels, horizons and horizontals and is quite correctly termed — a flat earth."

But what about those photographs taken by the astronauts? "That's right up my street," he answered. "The astronauts took their pictures with wide-angle lenses. The wide-angle lens is what distorts. It's a deception of the public and it isn't right." "People today are unable to conceive of the earth mass in any other form than that of a globe. Consequently, they are very easily persuaded that the press, TV, and films present the true picture of 'space' flights."

Shenton, a retired sign painter and a man of property, is an elected fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and the Royal Geographical Society. Astronomy and geography have been his hobbies since he was 16.

At 63, Shenton is secretary of the International Flat Earth Research Society, whose headquarters are at his home, 24 London Road, in Dover. Warming now to his theories, he continued: "Flat earthists hold that, rather than being a self-evolved, whirling, gyrating globe, the earth is of special construction, and absolutely motionless."

He swallowed, smiled patiently, and continued: "If you can prove, or anyone else can prove, that the orbital speed of the earth is 66,000 miles per hour, some 20 miles per second, and explain how still water can be convex, well, I'll guarantee you one thing. I'll shut up and say nothing more about the earth being flat."

"I maintain that the assertion of this fantastic speed of the earth — unsupported by evidence — is definitely a crime. While such proofs are lacking, our younger generation should not be brain-conditioned to accept orthodox speculations as facts."

'Foretaste Of Hell'

Shipwrecked Couple
Saved After 3 Months

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — After three months shipwrecked on a tropical island and three days asea on a submerged water-logged raft, Henri Bourdens told his wife he was sorry but he was going to die.

"I asked him: 'Please wait for me, we must go together,' and he said he would try to live one more day," Mrs. Bourdens, 48, said Monday.

By the end of that day — Saturday — the ketch Betty Jane had rescued the French couple whose yacht was wrecked by a cyclone on the shores of Bathurst Island in late December.

Mrs. Bourdens said that on Saturday her husband's face looked like that of a dying man — "white despite his sunburn" — but he "was just dozing with his chin on the water when I saw that mirage — but it was not a mirage, it was a boat."

The raft's deck was under three feet of water and "two people looking more like strange wild animals were sticking out of the water," a crewman of the Betty Jane said.

The Betty Jane was en route to Darwin, 75 miles south of where the raft was found.

Alerted by his wife, Bourdens set off a smoke bomb to catch the Betty Jane's attention, and it nearly scared the boat away. The crew first thought the raft was an artillery target but then decided to investigate.

From his hospital bed in Darwin, Bourdens called the three-month ordeal "a foretaste of hell."

His wife said they built the raft when they were certain they were dying of starvation.

"We lived on sea snails for most of the two months after the food from the yacht ran out — except for one small kangaroo shot by Henri," Mrs. Bourdens said.

"That was the most wonderful meal ever. We roasted it on a spit and I made wallaby tail soup," she said. "That recipe will sell for a thousand dollars but nobody will want it because they would have to be hungry like us to appreciate it."

She said three days they spent in a mangrove swamp on the island were the most terrifying of her life. For a while, they were trapped up to the waist in slimy water and often heard animals fighting around them, she added.

They saw crocodiles and "hundreds of snakes, sometimes wrapped together like huge worms."

She saw her husband sink to his shoulders in mud and thought he was lost in quicksand.

One night they scooped out a turtle nest and slept in it for warmth.

After they built the raft, Mrs. Bourdens wrote a long letter to their two children in France.

"I wanted them to know what had happened to us and I cried all the time I wrote it," she said.

On the raft, chest deep in water when they were sitting, "We never saw an airplane or a boat, we saw nothing but the sea," said Mrs. Bourdens. "It seemed there was nothing else to do but wait for the will of God and hope He would be merciful. Then those wonderful men of the Betty Jane came to us and we were aboard."

The couple were trying to sail to France on a 45-foot yacht Bourdens had bought in Singapore. Hampered by water in their fuel, they tried to steer for the island of Timor but ended up 300 miles to the south, shipwrecked in an uninhabited area of Bathurst Island. They didn't know that a Roman Catholic mission was 40 miles away on the other side of the island.

Murrayville, Franklin Meetings To Discuss Apple Creek Project

Two public meetings will be held in Morgan county this week to discuss the proposed Apple Creek watershed project which has been studied for about two years.

It will involve 280,000 acres of land in Greene, Morgan, Macoupin, Sangamon and Scott counties.

A meeting will be held at the Murrayville school Tuesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, and at the Franklin high school Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Roy Lyne, watershed project engineer of the Illinois Department of Conservation, will lead the discussion.

The steering committee in Morgan consists of Earl Wright, Murrayville, chairman; Darrell Sayre, Franklin, secretary; Clyde Mier, Waverly; H. L. Mayberry, Nortonville, and Don Lakin, Murrayville.

Four meetings on the project have been held in Greene county, all with good attendance, at Carrollton, Greenfield, Roodhouse and White Hall.

Lyne will explain the operation of Public Law 566, small watershed projects and local problems connected with the proposal. If the Soil and Water Conservation district board and the steering committee feel there is enough local interest in the project, an application will be filed requesting a preliminary survey.

Acreage in the five counties involved in the watershed plans are: Sangamon, 2,368; Macoupin, 27,520; Morgan, 86,400; Scott, 3,136; Greene, 158,720.

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

HOG PRICE OUTLOOK IMPROVES

The quarterly Pig Crop Report issued by the USDA in March brought good news for hog producers. It showed that farmers plan to cut spring and summer farrowings. But it also showed that farmers have more hogs and pigs on hand now than they had a year ago.

Based on replies from thousands of farmers, the report covered ten Corn-Belt states. The farmers in these states had 30.5 million market hogs and pigs on hand March 1. This number was 5 percent more than the year-earlier total. The number of hogs kept for breeding was 7 million, down 4 percent from a year earlier.

More Market Hogs In Each Weight Group.
On March 1, the number of market hogs weighing over 120 pounds was estimated at 5.3 million, 9 percent more than a year before. Most of these hogs were marketed in March.

Hogs weighing 120 to 130 pounds numbered 7.4 million, up 3 percent. They will be marketed mostly in April and May.

On March 1, the number weighing 60 to 120 pounds was 6.5 million, 5 percent more than last year. They will be marketed from late May to mid-July.

The number of pigs weighing under 60 pounds was estimated at 11.3 million, or 4 percent more than a year earlier. These pigs will reach market weights beginning about the middle of July. Most of them will be pork by the end of September.

While market receipts of hogs seem likely to be around 5 percent larger this spring and summer (versus a year ago), the demand for pork will not increase that much. The demand for pork seems to increase about as fast as population growth — that growth is only a little more than 1 percent a year.

Price Prospects.
Some unfavorable factors can be seen in the prospective demand for pork: There are some signs of a business recession—slipping auto sales and layoffs of workers. Supplies of poultry will be considerably larger than last year, probably by as much as 5 to 10 percent. Supplies of beef may — or may not — be larger than in 1966. We will know more about that when the next quarterly report of cattle on feed is released on April 18.

From April through September last year, prices for hogs averaged about $24. That was for barrows and gilts at central markets. It was the highest average for the six-month period since 1954.

While we do not believe that prices will equal 1966 levels this year, a substantial rise is possible. Market supplies will be shrinking during the next three months, and supplies in prospect for next fall and winter are smaller than last year.

Farrowings To Decrease?
Reports from farmers received by the USDA indicate that sow farrowings during March-April-May will be about 3 percent less than a year ago.

Farmers also reported plans to cut June-July-August farrowings by 5 percent from the 1966 level. If farrowings are trimmed as planned, prices for hogs could average better than $20 next fall and winter.

Farm Bureau's 'Bend Our Ear' Schedule

The Morgan County Farm Bureau has arranged a series of nine meetings to be held this week and next.

"Through these meetings we hope," says Roy VanGundy, Jr., of Chapin, chairman of the legislative committee, "to get the feeling of our membership while they give us the guidance we need in order to surface ideas for policy development. Local matters will be considered by the board of directors of the Morgan County Farm Bureau, while state and national matters will be directed to the Illinois Agricultural association with our recommendations for action."

All meetings will begin at 8 p.m.

The schedule:
April 10 — Murrayville Legion Hall, Literberry Baptist church.

April 12 — Franklin high school, Nortonville Hall, Meredosia Legion Hall.

April 13 — Lynnville Christian church, Chapin grade school.

April 18 — Alexander Community Building, Farm Bureau hall, Jacksonville.

QUESTIONABLE

Veracity of the belief that bears, when attacking, hug their opponents and squeeze them to death is questionable. In an attack, the bear strikes around with its paws; the terrific strength of its weighty arms drives its claws deep into the body of its victim. To an observer, this might look like hugging, but in fact, is far from it.

Cattle Feeders Day At Urbana April 13

Ways of fortifying corn silage with urea and a new method of balancing beef cattle rations are topics featured on the annual Illinois Beef Cattle Day program, April 13 in Urbana.

A panel of cattle feeders including Glenn Brown of Springfield, Paul Miller of Mansfield, and Kent Wesson of Leland will discuss the methods and merits of adding urea to silage.

University of Illinois animal scientist Everett E. Hatfield will explain his new approach to balancing beef rations, recently tested in a feeding trial with 100 steers. Using high-moisture corn and corn silage as the basic parts of the ration, he balances each part separately with minerals and urea.

Each part of the ration should contain enough urea and minerals to offset its deficiencies and to meet the daily needs of growing steers. Cattlemen can then freely change the grain-to-forage ratio without adjusting the amounts of protein and mineral supplements.

The panel discussion and Hatfield's talk are scheduled for the afternoon session.

Husband-Wife Dinner For Pork Producers

Over 100 members, wives and guests attended the annual husband-wife banquet of the Morgan County Pork Producers at the Blackhawk restaurant Wednesday evening.

Co-chairmen for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Walpole and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin. President Carman Potter presided and introduced "The Fairest Wheelers," local men's choral group and members of the Jacksonville chapter of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., who entertained with several interesting numbers.

BRIMFUL and running over

HOW SAFE ARE YOUR RECORDS?

Many papers and documents are difficult to replace, and some cannot be replaced. For this reason I would like to mention some items you should keep in a fireproof file or safety deposit box:

Birth certificates
Insurance policies
Bonds, stocks
Marriage records
Personal property inventory
Military service papers
Social security records
Notes, contracts
Deeds, real estate papers
Keep a list at home telling which records are in the safety deposit box.

We are coming into a busy season and frequently there are things that should be done that are neglected. If you don't have one make yourself a work priority calendar so you won't forget necessary jobs.

Check your supplies for planting time. Have you made arrangements or actually gotten your seed, herbicide, insecticide and fertilizer that you are going to need?

Now you should...
...eat a good breakfast.
...check the planter.
...plant early garden.
...buy a new pair of pliers.
...wash the dog.
...make a foot scraper.
...plan to watch a track meet.

Isn't it wonderful at this time of year? Wonderful to see the green of the grass and trees, the bloom of the flowers and trees, the smell of the soil, the young calves. It's such a joy to watch the joy of children at seeing a newborn calf or lamb or pigs.

Seeing God send forth new life from the soil each spring bolsters everyone's faith in Him and lets us all know there will be another harvest.

There are many risks in farming but this bursting forth of life in the spring is one of the rewards that makes the risks worthwhile.

Better not try to be flowery. That's just one stage removed from being seedy.

During the morning session, John Story, Independent Grocers' Association, Chicago, will talk about "Steps Leading to Increased Beef Consumption."

Agronomist George E. McKibben will discuss silage composition, and animal scientist George F. Cmarik will talk about wintering beef cattle. Both men work at the U. of I. Ixion Springs Agricultural Center in Southern Illinois.

Other talks by U. of I. scientists include feeding corn silage by-products, Waco W. Albert; vitamin A research, Frank C. Hinds; high-energy rations for finishing cattle, U. S. Garrigus; and supplementary protein for finishing cattle, Everett E. Hatfield.

Beginning at 8 a.m., early Cattle Day visitors may tour U. of I. research facilities on S. Fourth Street, Champaign. The speaking program will start at 9:45 a.m. in the University Auditorium. The U. of I. student Hoof and Horn Club will serve luncheon in the University stock pavilion.

was Chuck Bloomberg, executive vice president of the Illinois Pork Producers association, with headquarters in Springfield.

His topic was "Past Accomplishments and Immediate Goals."

He asked for "a recapture and increase of the per capita consumption of pork, which has declined 15% in 15 years."

He said, "We must eliminate cholera, trichinosis, brucellosis and other diseases which now restrict pork consumption both here and abroad and we must create greater incentive at the market place for high quality hogs."

President Potter called for several committee reports.

Charles Jones, chairman of the pork cookout contest said plans are underway for a pork barbecue contest open to the public to be held in early June. Eddie Hymes, chairman of the carcass contest program traditionally sponsored by the organization during the Morgan County Junior Fair, reported his committee is developing a plan which should make this event an outstanding attraction this year.

"The Morgan County Pork Producers association is open to any hog raiser or any allied industry," Potter said. "For further information interested people are urged to contact me or any other member of the organization."

LAW on the farm

WHY MUST ESTATES BE PROBATED?

Farm people often ask why an estate has to be administered in court when a farmer dies, particularly when the estate is small. Although there are exceptions to this "probate" procedure, it is generally necessary.

These three groups or parties may have interests in your property:

1. Your heirs have a right to the share of the property you left them by will, or due them under inheritance law if you do not leave a will.

2. Federal, state and local governments are interested in collecting any taxes that you may owe.

3. Creditors are entitled to collect debts you owe at death.

Without court administration there is no official record of whether you had a valid will, who your heirs may be or the property interest of each heir. Without court supervision and approval of the distribution of your assets, no one can be sure that your will has been legally carried out or that the right heirs took your property. Therefore, objections may arise later.

Real estate titles may be clouded without this official record and buyers will not buy until they can get a clear title. If death taxes are due, they become a lien on the property and accumulate interest and penalties. Creditors may assert claims against the estate or the heirs. All of these items are cleared in probate proceedings.

Most states, including Illinois, have a Small Estates law that avoids the sometimes lengthy probate proceedings. The Illinois law can be used when the gross value of the personal estate is less than $5,000 and when all debts and expenses of the deceased person are paid or will be paid out of the estate assets or have been paid by the heirs.

To get a release of the decedent's money or property from a person or corporation, an affidavit — generally prepared by an attorney — is signed by one or more of the heirs. When the affidavit is submitted to the person or corporation holding property of the deceased, the proceeds must be paid over or the property transferred, according to the directions or information contained in the affidavit.

This affidavit protects the payor or transferor in the same way that he is protected when letters of administration are issued.

sued by a probate court.

In cases where a person dies leaving no real estate, or real estate held in joint tenancy, and has a personal estate of $5,000 or less, the Small Estates law can shorten the "probate period" and also cut down on administration costs and fees. However, this abbreviated procedure does not eliminate the various tax returns that would otherwise have to be made.

Where Space Business Is Monkey Business

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LOS ANGELES (NEA) — Eleven busy little pigtail macaques are going to classes in a string of converted house trailers on the UCLA campus, and because of this maybe someday you'll be able to spend your vacation on Venus.

This is part of the biosatellite program, operating under the NASA banner. In Philadelphia at the moment, General Electric is building a biosatellite capsule which will be orbited sometime late in 1968. The capsule will roam through space for 30 days—and one of UCLA's monkeys will be on board.

The point of the biosatellite program is to learn more about the prolonged effect of weightlessness on living things. Almost all of the problems of space travel can be duplicated on the ground, except weightlessness. For that, nothing will do except the real thing.

Under the direction of Dr. Robert Schiffman, UCLA's biosatellite team is preparing a monkey for the vital flight. They have already been at it for five years with another 1½ years to go.

For this job, the pigtail macaque is ideal. These are monkeys (Macacus nemestrina) native to Indochina and Thailand. They are lighter in weight than chimps, thus perfectly suited to a space flight where weight is a consideration.

Schiffman, a physiologist, would prefer dogs—"I understand dogs better"—but says the antiscience to animals bloc would never allow dogs to be used in American space experiments. Monkeys, though, are permissible.

During the 30-day mission, the test monkey will be measured in many ways to see how he is enduring the flight, physically, and how his reaction time changes, if at all. The measurements will be made through the telemetering of data obtained by electrodes attached to his body.

There are 21 channels of data which will be fed out of the capsule constantly, measuring the monkey's brain, heart, muscles, respiration, blood pressure and analyzing his urine.

Perhaps more important is the measurement of the monkey's ability to think and react. This is the key to the experiment, and to the current work. They want to know whether the monkey, after a long time in space, will still be able to react as he does on earth.

THIS MONKEY is one of 11 at work on the UCLA campus. One of the monkeys is due to make a 30-day trip into space late next year.

To do this, the monkey will be asked to perform two experiments. The animals are now being trained to do these experiments on the ground, so there will be sufficient data against which to measure his in-flight performance.

First, the monkey is confronted with an apparatus the size of a small dinner plate. This has four half dollar-sized holes around the edge and one in the center. In the center hole appears a symbol—a triangle, circle, square or plus sign. Twenty seconds later, the four signs show up in the four outer holes. The monkey must press the symbol which had been in the center 20 seconds before. This tests his memory and, in a primitive way, his power to think.

The other test consists of two disks, revolving at different speeds. In one is a hole and in the other a pellet. The monkey hole and button are aligned, the monkey must press a button. This tests his ability to react quickly.

To prepare the monkeys to live in space for 30 days, the team must teach them to eat and drink according to plan. Obviously, in an orbiting capsule, there can be no loose food and water. The macaques are being taught how to suck water from a tube—rather than lapping water, as they do naturally—and how to pull a lever and be rewarded with a pellet of food.

There are now 20 macaques in the UCLA colony, 11 of which are in training. Eventually, there will be 50 here. Six months before the flight, they will all move to Cape Kennedy. Sixteen hours before launch, the actual monkeyonaut will be chosen, on the basis of health, testing abilities and, primarily, weight. He must weigh exactly 15 pounds.

HOW'S YOUR NOSE FOR NEWS?

A big news story broke recently in each of the spots marked on the map below. As a reader or student, check your memory and your knowledge by identifying the news events. The clues given in the box below will help.

What occurred where? Study the map and match the numbers with the events listed in the box at right. Score yourself 10 points for each correct answer.

A score of 50—you're fairly hep. A score of 70—you're pretty sharp. A score of 90 or more—congratulations to a real news hawk!

MOTHERS SEEK SUPERVISION FOR CHILDREN

WHITE HALL — The City Council met Tuesday night, with Mayor Ira Clark, City Clerk Nova Lyons and the following aldermen present: Paul E. Morrow, Donald C. Goben, Harold L. Brimm, John Mail and Keith Pilkington.

A number of mothers were present to ask that supervised recreation for children be furnished at the Tunison avenue Housing Addition. The council took the matter under advisement.

The council voted to rescind the motion passed at a previous meeting to extend city facilities to the proposed new housing addition just west of Westmore Drive, pending further investigation.

A sidewalk forty feet in length will be installed in front of the Spartan Roller Arena, the owner to stand one half the cost.

A bid from the Westledge Implement Co. was accepted for a rotary mower for the Streets and Alleys Dept.

The Council appropriated $900 for the 1967 Khoury League season.

Scientists say the common cold may be caused by any of some 70 to 80 different viruses.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

By STELLA

SUNDAY, APRIL 9 — Born today, you are highly creative, but you are also highly emotional and may well allow your feelings to rule your life — and to destroy your creativity — unless you learn early the value of self-discipline. You know what you want out of life, but you are inclined to hamper yourself as you go after your goal by wanting too much too quickly. Patience is a quality which you must strive for and ultimately achieve if you are to attain what is possible for you in life.

Gifted with a keen imagination, you nevertheless are not able to make much use of this gift without the inspiring presence of another person. Should this person be your mate, so much the better; should it be a business or professional partner, you must take special care not to antagonize or in some other way lose him or her. This may require a bit of doing on your part — but it will be worth any effort.

You women have minds as brilliant as your male counterparts, but, unlike the men, you will have to learn how to tone down your intellectual side, especially when in the presence of other women. You want and need friends as much as the next person, but in order to have them you will have to place yourself on their level, rather than hoping they will rise to yours.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, April 10

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) — Study the results of every action, before you move on to the next one. You may find it wise to change your plans along the way.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Guard against becoming emotionally involved in matters that do not concern you at this time. Save your energy.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Pick and choose wisely from among a number of opportunities and you should see material and spiritual gain as a result.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Though business matters are in the foreground, take some time out to turn your attention to important family affairs.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — "Look before you leap" should be the watchword for the day. Outlook for gain is excellent — so long as you watch where you're going.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Whatever you start today, take care to finish. The projects you leave half done now may well be in the same condition weeks from now.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Others may well influence you more than you would like today. Turn a deaf ear, if possible, to doubters of your ability.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — The restless Scorpio will combat the restlessness that threatens to overcome him at this time. You can ill afford a change now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Take care that your ambitions are not greater than your possibility of achieving them. No need to court disappointment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Examine every offering with care — whether it be spiritual or material. Not all is what it appears today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 — Feb. 19) — The Aquarius with an artistic bent may be in for pleasant surprises today. Others should get along well with a routine day.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) — Think twice before you accept an opportunity to join with others in adventure. You may not be up to what you promise to do.

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR NUTRITION CLASS

A few applications for the Nutrition and Weight Control classes being sponsored by the Morgan County Heart Association are still available and may be obtained at the Morgan County Health Department, the local Department of Rehabilitation or the Home Extension office, now located on East Morton Road.

Classes, to be held at the Home Extension office, will begin at 7:30 p.m. April 11 and continue for eight consecutive Tuesdays. A $2 fee will be charged and each applicant must have a doctor's consent before participating.

Miss Frances Webb, Morgan-Scott home advisor, will conduct the classes. She will be assisted by Mrs. Marc Dahman and Robert Manlove.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Dahman and Mrs. Robert Dalton, co-chairmen for the Heart Association.

Memorial Mass Set For Retired Sangamon Priest

Solemn requiem mass in memory of Reverend Charles J. Fanning, longtime pastor of St. Mary's church at New Berlin, will be offered in New Berlin April 26.

Father Fanning, who returned to his native Ireland after retirement from the active priesthood in July 1965, passed away March 30 in a hospital at Castlepollard, West Meath, Ireland, according to information received by the Springfield Diocesan office Friday. He was 74.

Born in Ireland Oct. 8, 1882, he was ordained in Dublin in 1909 and came to the United States where he was assigned to work within the Springfield Diocese.

Father Fanning was first sent to the Carrollton parish for six months, served at Mt. Sterling for three and a half years and at Grafton for six years. He was pastor of the church at Bethany and a mission church at Lovington from 1919 to 1930 when he was assigned to St. Mary's at New Berlin.

He spent 35 years at New Berlin and 56 as an active priest before his retirement. He celebrated his Golden Jubilee (50th anniversary) as a priest with a visit to his homeland and the place where he was ordained.

Upon retirement, he moved to Ireland to live with a brother, who passed away earlier this year.

Funeral services for Father Fanning, the last surviving member of his immediate family, were held in Ireland.

Monsignor John J. McGrath, present pastor of St. Mary's church, said Friday that solemn requiem mass will be offered at the church at 11 a.m. Wednesday, April 26, for the benefit of members of the parish and the priests of the diocese.

Funeral services for Claude H. Jewsbury were conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at Central Christian church with Reverend Joe Hood, Reverend Ralph Bureman and Reverend William Sturgess officiating. Jack McNeeley, who sang "The Holy City," was accompanied by Bill Jewsbury at the organ.

Caring for the flowers were Mrs. Norma Rea, Mrs. Jean Young, Mrs. Carolyn Hadden, Miss Jane Hadden, Mrs. Nancy Wynn, Mrs. Joann Cross and Mrs. Willa Jewsbury.

Honorary pallbearers were Lawrence Oxley, Harold Hills, Harold Hamel, Ed Garlich, Russell Wynn and Daniel Deitrick.

The active pallbearers were George Oberate, Baird Christian, Wilbur Kunzeman, Brownie Brown, James Fox and Charles E. Decker.

Alva Stainforth, Glenn Skinner and Milton Edge served as ushers at the church.

Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery with Gillham-Buchanan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

INQUEST PROBES DEATH OF TWO IN PLANE CRASH

CHANDLERVILLE — A coroner's jury, investigating the deaths of a Rockford pilot and his son who were killed in the crash of a private plane near Chandlerville March 30, returned a verdict of "accidental death due to severe burns and other injuries."

Called as witnesses during the inquest, held Wednesday evening, were Cass County Sheriff Carl Wubker, Betsy Birdsall, Shirley Garner, Majorie Eilers, Betty Armstrong and Frances Shoemaker.

Beardstown Chief of Police Raymond Taylor was foreman of the jury. Other members were Shirley Garner, Thomas Birdsall, Jack Vetherall, Charles Bailey and Orville Thompson.

The plane, a four-seated 1947 Stinson, piloted by Ellis Miller, 38, of Rockford, crashed during an attempted take off from a field in which it had earlier made a forced landing. Killed were Miller and his 17-year-old son, Raymond. His wife and daughter, Linda, 16, passengers in the plane, were treated for burns at Schmitt hospital in Boardstown and later moved to Swedish American hospital in Rockford.

The family was en route from Rockford to Little Rock, Ark., and the plane was reportedly off course and low on fuel when the emergency landing was made.

THERMOSTAT DAMAGED

A thermostat was damaged by an electrical short in a deep freeze at the Malcolm Stewart residence at 1042 Grove street about 5:40 p.m. Friday.

City firemen said that the short developed in the thermostat and the deep freeze began to melt.

Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill., April 9, 1967 15

Clancy Services Conducted Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Beulah Clancy, wife of Leonard Clancy of Alexander, were held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Williamson Funeral Home with Reverend William J. Boston officiating. Mrs. G. O. Webster was the organist.

Caring for the flowers were Mrs. Ray Crowder, Mrs. Earl Colwell, Mrs. Roy Thady and Helen Stice.

Pallbearers were John Colwell, Byron Kindred, Gail Wright, Dale Rowden, Henry Leadill and Loren Hughes. Burial was in Woodworth cemetery at Island Grove.

Small Talk About Wedding Photography

For the past seventeen years this area's finest wedding photographs have been made by the Bill Wade Studio and the reasons are simply these: The Bill Wade Studio was first to offer candid type wedding coverage in 1950 and the first to offer natural color plus the fastest coverage, fast service, and outstanding quality that has won many awards and trophies.

The Bill Wade Studio offers really complete coverage from your engagement portrait til your photo as you leave on your honeymoon and all so reasonably priced that any bride can now afford the finest. And you can use your Midwest Bank Charge, too.

Your engagement portrait... a complete selection of expressions plus your glossy for the paper for only $8. Your portrait will be on display at the Fox Illinois in size 11 x 14—yours with our compliments when you book us for your wedding.

Pre-Bridal Special... A selection of 3/4 and close up views and your choice made into an 8 x 10 bluetone portrait plus a glossy for the paper... a $27.50 value for $16.95. The same in beautiful natural color... a $34.95 value for only $21.95.

PLUS THIS SPECIAL BONUS if sitting is made far enough in advance we will make up to 100 complimentary billfolds to be passed out to the guests as they go thru the reception line.

Natural color wedding coverage... a plan that surely will fill your needs starting with as few as three 8 x 10s made at the church in color for only $25.95. Or you may prefer twelve 5 x 7's in natural color for only $49.95 and in the 8 x 10 size for $59.95 including album. Come in and let us show you—so you can compare and be the judge.

Black and White Coverage... your complete story with 24 photos for selection. Select any fourteen 8 x 10's with album for only $39.95... a price that can't be beat.

Small Studio Wedding... Why not come to our studio and have a fine natural color portrait made of just the two of you. Three 8 x 10 Natural Color Portraits of one pose, dry mounted and ready for framing, including the cost of sitting... only $41.95.

You are invited to see our display of wedding photography at the home show. We know that you will see the difference. If you are planning a wedding we will be happy to help you either in our studio, your home, or our home... at your convenience.

Sunday Evening Services Held At Faith Church

Faith Lutheran Church, corner of Walnut and Finley, is now holding Sunday evening services. Reverend Gerald Peterson, pastor, reports that the purpose of the evening service is to provide an opportunity to worship for those persons who, for one reason or another, often cannot attend a Sunday morning service.

"We look upon these evening services as an opportunity to experiment with different worship forms and to attempt some things which one would be cautious about trying on a Sunday morning," Rev. Peterson said. The traditional morning sermon will be heard only occasionally, its place being taken by readings, films, chancel drama, hymn sings, temple talks by laymen and dialogue sermons. Holy Communion will be celebrated one Sunday evening each month, generally on the third Sunday. The Sunday evening services, which began April 2, are followed by a coffee and fellowship hour in the church basement. Visitors are welcome.

RIGGSTON WSCS MEMBERS MEET AT WINCHESTER

Mrs. Eileen Coultas was hostess for the April 6th meeting of the Riggston Methodist church WSCS which met at the Slagle Ranch House in Winchester. The meeting was preceded with the serving of a dessert course.

Mrs. Frances Long, president, conducted the meeting and the spiritual life chairman, Eileen Coultas, had devotions in the absence of Edith Funk. The topic, Self Study, was used and a discussion followed.

Mrs. Long closed with prayer. The nominating committee will report at the next meeting. There were eight members and four guests present.

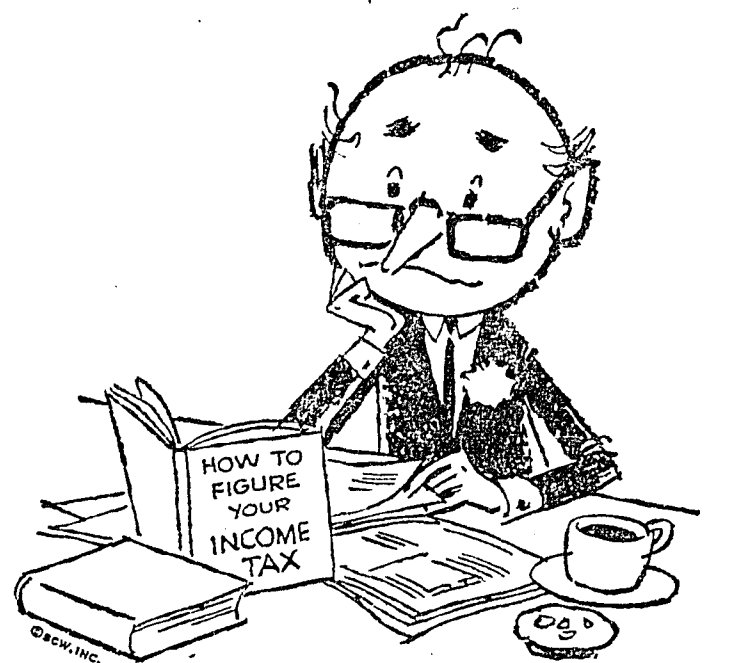

Mettie Coultas and Eileen Coultas were in charge of the program and conducted interesting contests.

Mrs. Leib will be the hostess for the next meeting.

FHA Ready To Lend Money For New Homes

Applications for insured housing loans are now being accepted from families in all income groups, Brown-Cass-Morgan county Supervisor Norman T. Torrens of the Farmers Home Administration said last week. Until recently funds were only available for families with low and moderate incomes.

Torrens said home financing for families of above-moderate income can be resumed by the agency under a new allocation of lending authority granted by President Johnson. A Presidential order March 17 authorized the agency to insure $25 million more in housing loans to families of the upper income group between now and June 30.

Action on new applications from persons in the above-moderate income group had been at a virtual standstill since November 1966. The agency had taken all applications it could meet under the previous $25 million allocation of loan authority for the current fiscal year.

There has been no interruption of the rural housing loan program for low and moderate income families, which has an allocation of $300 million for fiscal 1967.

Torrens said applications from families in all groups are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration office at 15 Permac Road in Jacksonville, which serves Brown, Cass and Morgan counties.

He reported that insured housing loans in these three counties to date this fiscal year have totaled $39,250 for low and moderate, and $14,500 for above-moderate borrowers.

The Farmers Home Administration, a part of the Department of Agriculture is the U. S. government agency for insuring home-ownership loans both for farm and non-farm families in rural areas, including towns of not more than 5,000 population. "The service is available to rural people who are unable to obtain conventional home financing from private lenders on terms they can reasonably be expected to repay or insured loans through other agencies in the housing field," Torrens said. "We are authorized to serve above-moderate income families in financing homes that are not more elaborate than the prevailing local standard for modern homes."

All rural FHA housing loans may run for a maximum of 33 years, and may cover the cost of a minimum adequate home-site as well as home construction. Current interest rates are 5% for borrowers in the low and moderate income groups, and 6% interest plus one-half of a percent mortgage insurance charge for those in the above-moderate income group.

Farmers Home Administration insured loan funds are provided by banks and other private lenders and investors, with the government's insurance endorsement guaranteeing their repayment.

PEO CHAPTER AT ROODHOUSE MEETS IN MANNING HOME

ROODHOUSE — Mrs. Ross Manning was hostess, Tuesday evening, to Chapter BU of the PEO Sisterhood. Mrs. Francis Anderson gave the history of BU Chapter for the last year.

The next meeting will be held at the country home of Mrs. Allyn Nichols.

Past district governor Lloyd Coffman was the speaker for the Wednesday night meeting of the local Rotary Club. Mr. Coffman, a member of the Roodhouse club, discussed the fellowship between Rotarians as experienced by him when he attended district national and international meeting of the club. Program chairman for the evening was Dr. Frank Veith.

Howard Starr, Jacksonville, was a visiting Rotarian. The dinner was served by the Pythian Sisters Lodge.

Future teachers of the area will be guests at a 7:30 tea to be held at the local Christian church, Friday evening, April 14, with local members of Chi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma society, as hostesses to members and guests.

Those unable to attend should contact Miss Mabel Hopkins by Wednesday, April 12.

First woman to be placed in charge of a bureau of the federal government was Julia Clifford Lathrop, who was the first chief of the Children's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Congress Restores 'Investment Credit'

Farmers and businessmen are being given back the investment credit and accelerated depreciation tax breaks that were suspended five months ago.

These suspensions have served their intended purpose and business now needs a lift, says University of Illinois assistant professor of agricultural law, John Henderson.

Suspension was to have applied between October 10, 1966 and December 31, 1967. During this period no investment credit was allowed on investments of more than $20,000 in ordered or acquired equipment. But if you had a binding contract to buy equipment as of October 9, you still got the credit.

Under a bill due for floor action in Congress on April 3 and assured of passage, the suspension period will end as of March 9, 1967. And equipment ordered before March 9 will qualify for the credit if it was not delivered until after that date.

The restoration of the credit may affect your 1966 tax return as well as your investment plans for 1967, Henderson says. During the suspension period you could still take the investment credit on up to $20,000 of the equipment investment. This $20,000 was not an annual exception, but applied to the whole suspension period.

Some farmers considering greater investments and higher income in 1967 may have decided to use the $20,000 exception on their 1967 returns rather than take it in 1966. But since the suspension period has been shortened, they should take maximum advantage of the credit on their 1966 returns.

If you have already filed tax returns, you should review your situation and consider filing an amended return to take maximum advantage of the tax break.

In the case of fast depreciation on buildings, the new bill offers another tax break, Henderson adds. Fast depreciation was to have been eliminated if an order for construction was placed during the same suspension period.

Under the revised bill, even though a contract for construction was entered during the suspension period, you can take fast depreciation for the entire cost of the building if construction was not begun before March 10. If construction had begun by that date, only the portion that was completed before March 10 will be disqualified from fast depreciation, Henderson says.

WLDS Now Broadcasts IAA Farm Program

A new farm radio program made its debut Monday, April 3, over Radio Station WLDS, Jacksonville, and 24 other Illinois radio stations as the nation's largest farm radio network serving one state was launched.

The new program, called RFD-Illinois, is a cooperative effort of the participating stations and the Illinois Agricultural Association information division. Station WLDS airs the program daily, Monday through Friday, beginning at 6:05 a.m.

Illinois Farm Radio is the name of the new network formed by the co-operating stations and the IAA. The program will be produced by Kent M. Karraker, IAA radio-TV director, and will be broadcast live from the studios in the IAA Building in Bloomington.

RFD-Illinois will be broadcast as a half-hour program which will offer Illinois farmers the facts and information of greatest need and interest to them. In addition to headline news and weather information, the program will feature grain and livestock market reports. These reports, direct from Illinois Grain Corporation and Interstate Producers Livestock Association, will quote prices paid to farmers at both terminal markets and at local stockyards and grain elevators.

The accent will be on farm news. Interviews with people who make news in agriculture will be featured. Legislative affairs also will receive close attention. Up-to-the-minute news from the news wires of The Associated Press will be given added color and meaning by reports from personal news contacts in both Springfield and Washington, D.C. News of important agricultural events and programs will also be featured on RFD-Illinois.

The program will be sent throughout the state by a combination of telephone lines, the standard method of providing material to distant stations, plus the use of a newer method, FM radio carrier. This FM carrier system has only recently become practical for state-wide use because of the increased number of powerful FM radio transmitters used by stations. Under this plan, key FM stations throughout the state will serve as relay points for transmitting the broadcast signal. The FM signal, which is virtually unaffected by weather and other static-producing factors, will be picked up by other participating stations, both AM and FM, and rebroadcast to their listeners. Some stations will rebroadcast the originating signal simultaneously. Others will tape-record the program for broadcasting later in the day.

Miss Watt Weds Mrs. Sturgess Speaks To Leo Cromien In Teachers Sorority Group Rites Saturday

MURRAYVILLE — Nuptial vows Saturday, April eighth, at St. Bartholomew's Catholic church here united in marriage Miss Marion Gertrude Watt of Murrayville and Leo Dennis Cromien, formerly of Galva, Illinois.

The Reverend A. D. LeBreton performed the ceremony at an altar decorated with white Majestic daisies and glads in gold vases. Mrs. James Carigan was at the organ and Miss Teresa Sheehan sang.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Watt of Murrayville and the groom is the son of Mrs. Anna Cromien of Galva, Illinois and the late George Cromien.

Miss Michele Watt attended her sister as maid of honor. Miss Linda Zeller and Miss Pat Watt were bride's maids and another sister of the bride, Dana Watt, was flower girl. Altar boys were David Watt, brother of the bride and Steve Smith, cousin of the bride.

John Cromien of Wyoming, Illinois, brother of the groom, was best man and Harlow Westlin, Greendale, Wisconsin was groomsmen. Ushers were Gary Kenny of Galva; Bernard Cromien, brother of the bride; Bob Nelson, cousin of the bride, Tom Schula of Oklahoma, nephew of the groom, was ring-bearer.

The bride's full length white crepe gown featured a Cathedral train of Schiffl lace falling from the shoulderline. A crepe rose headpiece held her veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of white daisies.

The attendants wore floor length silk organza over taffeta gowns with matching bow headpieces. Miss Michele Watt was in fern green; Miss Zeller in shocking pink; Miss Pat Watt in copen blue and Dana Watt in yellow.

The mother of the bride wore pastel pink silk with matching color accessories. Her flowers were white sweetheart roses. The groom's mother was in teal blue with white accessories and her flowers were pink sweetheart roses.

At the reception held at the Amvet hall in Jacksonville Miss Sue Hansen, Miss Mary Carlson, Mrs. Alan Fugit, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Steven Bolton, Miss Sharon Bourn, Miss Donna Nelson, another cousin of the bride, assisted. Lyn Symon's combo provided music during the reception.

Following a honeymoon to Kentucky Lake the couple will reside at 911 California avenue in South Bend, Indiana.

Twenty-three members and one guest, Mrs. William Sturgess, wife of Rev. Sturgess, attended the April 5th dinner meeting of Alpha Delta Kappa held at Hamiltons.

Marilyn Lambert, chaplain, offered grace before the roast beef dinner. Tables were beautifully decorated in keeping with the month of April. Umbrella trees and nutcups were used with green tapers. Hostesses were Mildred Kane, Thelma Willard and Nona Read.

The program was given by Mrs. Sturgess who showed slides and told of the trip she and Rev. Sturgess took to Europe and the Holy Land. Mrs.

Disney Topic At Tuesday Club In Scholfield Home

Tuesday Club met April 4th with Mrs. Vernon Scholfield. After the serving of a dessert course a business session was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. Clarendon Smith.

Officers elected to serve for two years were: president, Mrs. Clarendon Smith; vice president, Mrs. Barnard Camm; secretary, Mrs. Dallas Hagan; treasurer, Mrs. Wayne Taylor and historian, Mrs. L. P. Hauck.

Mrs. Harold Patterson gave an interesting program on the life of Walt Disney. An American producer of animated cartoons, motion pictures and television shows, Disney's first success was his Mickey Mouse film. His first full-length animated picture was Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. He won many Academy Awards. In 1955 he opened Disneyland Park, a children's fairland near Los Angeles.

The next meeting of the club will be April 18th at the home of Mrs. Francis Plouer, 9 Sunset Drive.

OUR SAVIOUR'S HOLY CROSS HOME COMING

The regular dinner meeting of Our Saviour's-Holy Cross Alumnae was held April 4th at the Blackhawk. The evening was spent socially. Plans were discussed for a bake sale.

The group will not meet in June at the regular time. The Homecoming for the Alumnae will be June 24th.

Galva High School in 1955, served 3 years in the armed forces and received his degree from Western in 1966. He is employed by Saga Food Service of California and is presently Unit Manager at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana.

The bride designed and made her wedding gown and those Sturgess received a floral arrangement from the sorority in appreciation of her talk.

The business session opened with the sorority pledge followed with opening prayer by Marilyn Lambert.

Mildred McKean gave the secretary's report; Mildred Pack read correspondence and the treasurer's report was heard. An invitation was received to attend a reception April 30th honoring J. A. Mann, superintendent of School District 117. A contribution was approved for the American Field Service Chapter here.

At least five will be attending the state convention April 28-29 at Bloomington. Charlene Strubbe, president, is delegate to the International convention Aug. 6-10 in Minneapolis, Minn.

Nona Read reported on the March rummage sale which netted $37.25. Another such sale will be held June 23rd. Members will also sell flower bulbs this year.

Mildred Kane, courtesy chairman, reported flowers sent Minnie Marie Spires at the Memorial hospital in Springfield.

The group will hold its meetings again next year at Hamiltons. The next meeting will be May 3rd with Mildred Pack, Christine Thomas and Marilyn Lambert hostesses. Members unable to attend are to phone cancellations directly to Hamiltons.

District W.S.C.S. Meet April 13 At Grace Church

Members of Grace Methodist church will be host to the annual District meeting of Women's Society of Christian Service to be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, April 13 at the church.

Theme for the program is "Dialogue Leads to Design for Mission, Growth and Action." Featured speaker will be Mrs. Charles W. Spear of Fairmont, Minnesota. She is a member of the Board of Missions of the Methodist church and the Women's Division, and is official correspondent to the World Federation of Methodist Women. Mrs. Spears was a delegate to the Assembly which met in London last August, 1966.

Luncheon tickets are $1.25 and reservations are due April 10 with Mrs. Paul Rhoads, 5 Crampton Road, Jacksonville. Local members participating in the program are Mrs. Robert Adams, Mrs. Norma Shenkel, Mrs. G. O. Webster, and Mrs. John P. Atkins. Greetings will be extended by local W.S.C.S. president, Mrs. Kenneth Man-

Mrs. Fredric Lee Lippincott

Lippincott And Lindsey Nuptials At Winchester

WINCHESTER — Miss Rosann Imogene Lindsey of Winchester and Fredric Lee (Rick) Lippincott of Pittsfield were united in marriage Saturday morning, April first, at St. Mark's Catholic church here. The Reverend J. J. O'Hara officiated.

White carnations were used in decorating the church. Miss Sue Dwyer was soloist and Mary Lou Bernardini was at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsey of Winchester and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lippincott of Pittsfield.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white brocade, falling floor length, with a Chapel train extending from the shoulder line. She carried a cascade of white carnations and lily of the valley. Her bouffant veil of illusion was affixed to a forward petal head-dress.

Miss Sharon Lindsey was her sister's maid of honor and wore floor length green brocade with a mint green bow headpiece finished with a short white veil. Her flowers were white carnations.

Miss Carolyn Lindsey, another sister, was bridesmaid and wore an identical costume and carried the same type flowers. Little Gloria Lindsey was flower girl and was dressed like her older sisters. Chris Waggy was the ring bearer and wore a formal tuxedo.

Michael Lippincott of Greenbelt, Maryland, attended his brother as best man. Curt Fudge was groomsmen. Ushers were George Goodin, Lyndell Lindsey, Pittsfield; Larry Itner, Charleston, Illinois, and Tom Meyer of Quincy.

The mother of the bride wore mint green and the groom's mother was in navy blue. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

One hundred and forty attended the reception held at Sagle's Ranch Inn at Winchester. Assisting were Diana Haggard, Mrs. Larry Theobald, Beverly Wood, Barbara Lahey, Charlotte Fudge and Roxie Fudge.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in the Ozarks. The bride graduated from Winchester High School and the Flamingo Beauty College in Jacksonville. The groom graduated from Pittsfield High School, attended Western Illinois University and graduated from Quincy Techni-

Members of Mu Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met April 3rd at the home of Norma Willner. In the absence of the president and vice president the secretary, Karen Stillflew, presided over the meeting.

Members approved a $300 donation to the Big Brother Big Sister organization which will send girls to the camp this summer.

Committees were named for the May 14th Mother-Daughter banquet. The Sorority's Founders Day chapter committee will meet April 13th at the home of Karole Clausen.

The next chapter meeting will be at the home of Lora Tolbird. Following this meeting a surprise pink and blue shower honored Mindy Moeller. Refreshments of decorated cake with coffee, nutmeats and mints were served with the napkins folded "diaper" fashion. The following attended, Linda Bione, Gale Brogdon, Alana Hudgens, Glenda Keegan, Connie Massey, Delores Matthews, Betty Means, Mindy Moeller, Sharon Prewitt, Karen Stillflew, Lora Tolbird, Martha Varble, Norma Willner and Barbara Woolbridge.

Big Push On For JHS Prom

The Junior class at Jacksonville high school is presently putting the finishing touches on plans for the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet to be held Friday, April 21 at the Blackhawk Restaurant.

The buffet-style banquet, which will be served from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. will be followed by a program consisting of speeches and musical numbers.

The popular Warner Brothers will supply music for the prom, which will be underway at 9 p.m.

Dianne Silva and Willie Coultas are co-chairmen of the event, assisted by junior class advisor Miss Marjorie Howard.

Tickets for the banquet ($2.50 per person) and the prom ($3.50 per couple) are on sale now through April 20 at the school office.

CO-CHAIRMAN Dianne Silva and Willie Coultas are hoping this year's Junior-Senior Prom will be the best in Jacksonville High history. The event will take place April 21 at the Blackhawk Restaurant, beginning with a 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. buffet-style banquet. A program of speeches and musical numbers will follow, leading to the 9 p.m. dance.

BANQUET SPEAKERS for the 1967 JHS Junior-Senior Prom in keeping with the tradition of silence, aren't telling what this year's prom theme will be until the April 21 date. Speakers shown above are: (L-R) Beth Elae, Andy Symons and Dianne Silva. Not pictured are John Mathews and Willie Coultas.

South's jump to four spades was a distinct overbid but the sort of overbid that wasn't likely to get him into serious trouble. When you overbid with a doubtful trump suit you may run into massed trumps and a double. When you overbid with very sound trumps you just aren't going to get doubled.

The overbid was a happy idea. It was possible for East and West to beat the contract and if West had not happened to hold such nice clubs he might have opened a trump. He might well have opened a trump in any event. It usually pays to lead trumps when your opponents have reached game on strong bidding in trumps only.

CHANDLERVILLE CLUBS SPONSORING OZARK OPRY

CHANDLERVILLE—The Legion, Auxiliary, Optimist, and Junior and Senior Woman's clubs of Chandlerville are sponsoring the Ozark Opry at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 19 at the High School gym.

Lee Mace and his Ozark Opry group will be featured.

Anyway, West liked his clubs and opened the king. South ruffed and looked over dummy carefully. A lot of players would play one trump on general principles. If they did they would have done what West should have done.

South counts nine tricks in trumps and diamonds. The way to make a tenth trick is to ruff a heart in dummy and it is up to declarer to play hearts first and trumps a long time later.

South leads a heart. West gets in with the jack and leads a trump but he is one round of play too late. South wins and leads a second heart. West wins and leads a second trump.

South gets to ruff one heart for his tenth trick but the two trump leads have kept him from making an overtrick.

Rushville Club Has Program On Safety

RUSHVILLE—Sergeant H. Dale Higgins of the Illinois State Police was guest speaker at the April 4 meeting of the Rushville Federation Woman's club.

Sgt. Higgins, safety education officer for nine counties, stressed compliance with traffic regulations. Each member received the new Illinois Road map and book on rules of the road.

Miss Mary Nell Dean favored the group with two songs. She was accompanied by Mrs. Foy Wise.

During the business session announcement was made that the district meeting will be held in Lewistown April 19. Reservations must be made before April 10.

Miss Emma Parrott read an article on Education and School Elections. Each member was asked to plant a shrub on April 14 in observance of Arbor Day.

Four paintings have been sent to the District art show. Eight girls are being sponsored at summer art camp. The adult art school will be June 18-24 and June 26-July 2 at Allerton. Mrs. Faye Effert will represent the club with Mrs. Gladys Schenk as alternate.

Mrs. Mangan New President Of Grace W.S.C.S.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Grace Methodist church met in the church parlors on April 5th. Mrs. Dewey Muir presented the devotion on the theme, For Me to Live is Christ.

Mrs. Leple Kanatzar presented Robert Wallace, active church member who is the Probation Officer in Morgan county. Mr. Wallace described the local courts, gave statistics on juvenile cases during the past six years and related many details of his work. The program was interesting and stimulating. Members were urged to vote in the upcoming school board election and to participate in the used clothing drive.

Mrs. Orval Legate announced the May and June meetings will be at 1:30 p.m. instead of the usual 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Donald Bringman, chairman of the nominating committee, presented a slate of officers which the Society accepted: president, Mrs. Kenneth Mangan; vice president, Mrs. Orval Legate; secretary, Mrs. Jack Thomas; treasurer, Mrs. Howell Hill.

Secretaries are: spiritual life, Mrs. Frank Boatman; Christian social relations, Mrs. Leple Kanatzar; campus ministry, Mrs. Ivan Garrison.

Membership cultivation, Mrs. Maude Sevier; program materials, Mrs. Donald Bringman; supply work, Mrs. Paul Rhoades; local church activities, Mrs. Hubert Norfleet; publicity, Mrs. Weldon Fogel; nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Hugh Green.

Members of Circle Dorcas, Mrs. Victor Kruse, chairman, were in charge during the social hour.

RAINBOW GIRLS AT ROODHOUSE MARK FOUNDING

ROODHOUSE — Members of the Roodhouse order of Rainbow for Girls and their worthy advisor, Mrs. Ralph Benner, attended the morning worship services at the First Baptist church on Sunday.

Seventeen girls were among the group from Roodhouse and White Hall who attended the services in commemoration of the anniversary of the founding of the local organization, April 22, 1949 under the leadership of the late Mrs. Walter Ricks. The group received special ovation from the church congregation after being introduced by the pastor, Rev. H. L. Janvrin.

Special music was furnished by a quartet of young men of the area, now students at Illinois College, Jacksonville: Ross Thomas, Mike Painter, Bob Kerr, David Camp, accompanied by Mrs. Ronald Martin on the piano. Organist for the day was Mrs. Thomas Navins. Pianist was Mrs. Janvrin. The pastor spoke on "Fellowship with the Risen Christ."

Virginia Votes 2,820-0

April 9, 1867 — one hundred years ago — fell on Tuesday. An election was held in Cass county that day on a proposal to move the county seat from Beardstown to Virginia. And on that day the people in Virginia township set the all time voting record.

One hundred years later Virginia still holds the championship — the belt. And surely they'll hold it for evermore because they voted 2,820 to zero for removal.

Voters sometimes do things that are hard to explain. For instance Jackson county, Mo., outvoted the rest of the state to send Harry S. Truman to the U. S. Senate. And the south side of Chicago outvoted the rest of the nation to elect John Kennedy president.

But it wasn't by such decisive voting as Virginia counted in 1867. In Kansas City the tallies in the various precincts ran 814-2, 492-1, along that line. Some of the south side Chicago precincts in 1960 reported as many as ten votes for Nixon.

Anyway you look at it Virginia is the all-time champ.

Location Important

A county seat is a living, self-perpetuating symbol of horse and buggy days. It was located so a farmer living near the boundaries of the county could see his morning chores, hitch up his horse and go to the county seat to pay his taxes, or any other business, and get home in time to do his evening chores.

When Morgan county was laid out with Jacksonville as the county seat it included present-day Scott and Cass counties. A farmer along the Sangamon bottoms near Chandlerville just couldn't come to Jacksonville and return in the same day. It had two Cass county was formed in 1837 with Virginia the county seat.

The eastern part of the county was very thinly settled, and Beardstown was booming. It had an enormous business, and for a long time served as the port of entry, you might say, for the thriving new state capital, Springfield, with most supplies coming by steamboat to Beardstown and then hauled overland in wagons.

So in 1843 Beardstown rammed through an election to move the county seat there, which was way, way away from Chandlerville and Ashland.

Voters Ferried In

Beardstown was afraid it didn't have enough votes to get the job done, but the people solved this question very easily. At that time the town was one of the leading pork packing centers in the state, with immense droves of hogs coming in all winter long. The pork was packed in barrels made of white oak bound by hickory hoops. Beardstown needed thousands of barrels every year, but the business was wrecked by the Civil war for their customers were all in the south. Memphis, Natchez, New Orleans, and Beardstown as a pork packer went to pieces when the Mississippi river was closed at Cairo.

Now everybody is happy to see Beardstown making a comeback in the pig processing business.

Across the river, in Schuyler county, it is recorded that the very finest stands of white oak and hickory stood. By 1843 Peoria and Pekin had already taken a firm hold in the whisky business and they needed barrels. That winter there were more than 200 men working in the timber in Schuyler county.

So, on election day, Beardstown sent a steamboat over, provided free whisky and got 200 extra votes. As it turned out they should have saved their time, effort and expense, because they'd won without a single fraudulent vote.

Full of Vigor

By the fall of 1836 Virginia was feeling its oats. It had two newspapers and a railroad. It was the terminus of the Peoria, Pekin & Jacksonville railroad, a and the line was run into Jacksonville late in the summer of 1867.

The two papers, the Democrat and the Courier, were run by natural born boosters. The editors didn't agree with each other very much, but they were unanimous in stating that Virginia was bound to be the greatest city in all of Illinois.

In 1865 the Illinois legislature—in their combined wisdom—decreed that any town that had an area of one mile square and a population of 1,000 was entitled to be chartered as a city. How this could benefit a man working for a living for himself and his family remains a moot point.

Virginia decided to qualify. After all it was due to be a railroad center, with the Pana, Springfield & Northwestern scheduled to come in during the summer. Charters granted by the legislature provided for THREE OTHER railroads to converge at Virginia.

Population 1,200

Virginia qualified as a city by drawing a map which showed its boundaries extended a mile in all directions. The town boosters found 1,200 people in it.

But we are indebted to the editor of the weekly in Bushnell, McDonough county, for a more realistic report on the town. He ran the best weekly newspaper of the time.

In February, 1867, he went to St. Louis to buy a new press and some new type. He returned by rail to Jacksonville, stopping over a day at Jerseyville. Carrollton and Jacksonville to write up the towns.

He left here on Col. Newman's stagecoach, but a broken wheel kept him from catching the train to Pekin, so he stayed overnight in Virginia.

He said that the town boosters claimed a population of 1,200. "There are about 600 men, women and children living in this place, but there are truly 1,200 inhabitants, if you count all the stray cows, horses, pigs, goats and dogs which roam through the streets."

But M. B. Friend, editor of the Cass County Democrat, had a different view of the "city."

He wrote: "Virginia is a most thriving city, its future is no longer in doubt. Our railroads will make this place blossom like the morning rose. One of the roads, highly desirable, will run from Meredosia to Arenzville to this place and hence to Bloomington. Virginia is the centre, and hence the attention of capitalists is being attracted in this direction."

A Future Metropolis

"Our town, at present, numbers about 1,300, and would have more if we had houses to put them in. Everything here in the shape of a house at all tenable is full from cellar to garret. But the pressing wants of our rapidly increasing population in that respect, we hope, will be supplied this year, as we hear of many buildings already under contract, and the work of improvement will commence in earnest as soon as spring opens. A dozen first class business houses and a hundred residences will be necessary to meet the immediate demand."

Editor Friend went on to explain that the "Belleville coal seam" which was so profitably worked there at a depth of 200 feet was only 75 feet below Virginia, "which foretells riches for us to come."

"Also the Virginia Petroleum and Coal Mining Co. will begin exhaustive search for coal oil, which is known to exist within four miles of this place. They will set wells to a depth of 1,000 feet, if necessary, as the company is very finely financed."

Factories, Schools

He also noted that the town "is sure to have a woolen factory on an extensive scale within the very near future. The county fair grounds at the edge of town is to be greatly improved and beautified during the year. A new school house will go up along the Brick College owned by the C. P. church to accommodate 500 pupils."

"There is no better place for anyone, since it is so healthy here, and retired men with capital, large business houses, both retail and wholesale, and honest and industrious mechanics of all classes will swarm to our doors."

Vigilance Required
But the editor warned that Virginia must be alert.

"Great frauds are being planned in Beardstown, to vote all steamboat crews and to import 300 from Schuyler county on April 9, so that their precincts which has about 700 legal votes will be made to cast 1,100 or even 1,200."

He pointed out "Beardstown is going to seed, not a building in it worth $1,000. The courthouse is a miserable old rat den, and now in a stage beyond repair."

This is certainly interesting news, as the place is now visited by thousands of people every year.

Gosh, I can see that this story is getting away too long, I'm windier than my old friend Frank (Windy) Finn, but I'll try to finish the story next week of how Virginia voted 2,820 to naught.

—Cecil Tendick

HUMORS of the day

April, 1867

A gentleman who had built a small house in a sequestered part of his grounds for private reading, showed it to a friend, remarking, "Here I sit reading from morning till night, and nobody a bit wiser."

LOST — The buttons from a coat of paint.

A preacher once approached a mischievous boy, and laying a hand on his shoulder, commenced to remonstrate with him. "My son," said he, "I believe the Devil has got hold of you."

"I think so too," said theurchin.

Artemus Ward says no daily paper is published in his town, a ladies' sewing circle answering the same purpose.

"I wish you would pay a little attention to what I am saying, Sir," roared an irate lawyer to an exasperating witness.

"Well, I am paying as little as I can," was the calm reply.

—Harper's Weekly

FOREIGN

April, 1867

Prussia continues to strengthen herself by important treaties, offensive and defensive. Early in March last alliances were concluded with the Grand Duchy of Bavaria and Wurtemberg and the Grand Duchy of Baden, by which each of these powers grants the control of their armies in time of war to Prussia. The announcement of the conclusion of these treaties naturally engendered bitter feelings in France, and evidently created some fears.

The late Fenian insurrection has ended, without bloodshed, in the arrest of about forty prominent Irishmen and their confinement, while under trial for high treason, in the jail at Tipperary.

Turkey has emphatically refused to cede Candia to Greece.

The last of the French troops sailed from Vera Cruz on March 12.

—Harper's Weekly

DOMESTIC

April, 1867

Boston has spent, during the last twelve years, $6,645,000 upon her public schools, in salaries of teachers, new buildings, incidental expenses, etc. Connecticut seems to be prolific in Barnums; there are three in the field as candidates for Congress.

The Prussian conscriptions, the Irish difficulties, and the general uneasiness in Europe, will, it is thought, produce a very large migration to this country. Some of the Southern States are striving by agents in Europe and other means, to turn the tide of emigration to their borders. The best plan to secure this end will be to wheel into line and keep step to the music of the Union.

The police of New Orleans is to be reconstructed without distinction of color. General Sheridan appears to have arrived at the cause of the trouble there, and has dismissed the Mayor and other officers who were implicated in the late massacre.

General Butler has been presented with a coach by his friends; and those of General Banks have paid off a mortgage on his house and refurnished it. This is having friends of some advantage.

It is said that New York is the only port in which shipping fees on exported tobacco are demanded.

A bill has passed the New York State Senate conferring the right of suffrage on women in religious societies. This is the first step.

The police report on the St. Patrick's Day riot seems to show that the affair was more disgraceful even than it appears at first glance. The assaulted carman, who has been found more dead than alive, states that the attack upon him was wholly unjustified, even upon an Irish St. Patrick's Day view of what justifies an assault.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel

FIRE — The city was aroused on Wednesday evening by a stirring alarm of fire and a vivid growing light south-east of the square, caused by the burning of a stable containing hay, owned by Neddy Keys. The Union Fire Company were promptly on the ground with their machine, but the combustible materials were past redemption.

Two exciting runaways transpired this week, one on north Main street, and the other on east Morgan. Great rush and excitement, but nobody hurt.

From the Beardstown Central Illinoisian

Last Tuesday was the day appointed for the citizens of Cass County to decide whether the County Seat should remain in Beardstown, or should be moved to Virginia. The returns are not all in as yet, so we are unable to say how the vote does stand. But we can say, on the best of authority, that over FORTY persons came from Jacksonville, on the morning of the election, and cast ballots in and for, Virginia.

For aught we know the poll books for that precinct may have gone to Jacksonville, and as they failed to make their appearance here, we think they merit some such an Asylum.

We understand, also on good authority, that a special train was run from Peoria, filled with 150 confirmed perjurers, who all cast a vote in Virginia. Such stupendous fraud and imposition is too aggravating to pursue any further, consequently we cork our ink bottle for the present, draw the veil over the scene, and wait further developments, hoping at the same time that we may be misinformed.

From the Carrollton Gazette: THE CITY CHARTER — On Monday last, our citizens took a vote on the charter, which resulted in the adoption, almost unanimously, only two votes being cast against it.

We are pleased to see that our road supervisor finally has got to work on the roads in town, for some of them certainly need working.

The friends of the Rev. C. C. J. Gardiner will regret to learn that he met with quite an injury by a fall across the railroad track, on Thursday last, at this place, while trying to get aboard the rear end of a moving train. He was taken home in a wagon in quite a lame condition.

Dr. M. G. Hatcher, of the east side drug store, has been up before the authorities again on a charge of selling whisky. This time he was mulcted $25 and costs, much to his disgust.

Roadhouse Girls To Send Baptist Home Gift Box

ROODHOUSE — The Junior Girl's Association of the Emmanuel Baptist church is preparing a package to send to the Baptist Children's Home at Carmi.

All members of the church are invited to help with this project. Anyone who is interested may contact Barbara Miller.

The girls have participated in several activities this month. They delivered handbills door-to-door advertising the revival and they sang in the junior choir during the revival, Sunday afternoon, March 5, the girls met for a special session to study the home mission book, "A Bugler for Lullabies," concerning mission work in the Great Lakes area.

Those attending the study were Vicky Hazelwood, Brenda Benner, Maria Hendrickson, Tracie Schulz, Barbara Miller and their leaders, Mrs. Virginia Evans and Mrs. Sue Bradford.

Mrs. Earl Bacon, rural Roadhouse, has been spending a few days with their daughter, Miss June Bacon, Ava, Mo.

IT SAYS HERE ORIOLES, BUCS

It's that time of the year for everyone with a baseball eye to get in their two-cents worth about the pennant races. With the regular season getting underway this week, so-so interest in the exhibition campaign will suddenly switch to the yearly fever of watching one's favorites in every game.

We couldn't very well consider ourselves 'an all-knowing' sports scribe if we didn't get in our bid to call the races. With picking both leagues, or one, exactly a near impossibility, we'll settle for last year's 70% accuracy. Here's how the races look from this corner — don't bother saving this until October.

National League

PITTSBURGH: The Pirates' unbelievably strong hitting club of last season has been bolstered even more this season. Many observers couldn't understand how the Bucs didn't win it all in 1966, and the same ones say they can't miss in 1967. To an already sound club has been added Maury Wills for speed and defense, and Dennis Ribant and Juan Pizarro for mound strength.

ATLANTA: The Braves were 33-18 (.647) under Billy Hitchcock last season. They have five strong starters, an impressive bullpen, and hitting second only to the Pirates in Aaron, Alou, Torre, Carty and Jones. Clete Boyer has been added to bolster the infield.

CINCINNATI: This could be the year that everyone felt the Reds should have been having the past several seasons. Little has been changed from last year's seventh place outfit, but a strong mound crew and, again, a potent bat attack could just have everything fall into place in '67.

SAN FRANCISCO: The Giants have finished second the past two seasons, both of which on paper were pennant-winning clubs. Now age, a rather thin pitching front and a not-too-deep offensive outfit may be reaching the end of the 'contending-line.' Mays can't be expected to come through all the time, and Perry very likely can't match last year's marks.

ST. LOUIS: The Birds will have Orlando Cepeda for a full year, and Roger Maris could do wonders for the area favorites. A successful switch to third base by Mike Shannon, good years by Gibson and Washburn and a .270 season by Javier might boost the Birds a notch or two higher.

PHILADELPHIA: The Phils were hurt immeasurably by the injury to Bill White, the type that could hamper him all season. Bunning is getting along in years, and bullpen is a question mark. Richie Allen's bat will be the Phils' brightest point in the season.

LOS ANGELES: Alston may be the best, but he no longer has the 'stopper,' and will have to change the Dodgers' style of attack. Changing the attack means going more to the offense, and it's no secret that LA doesn't have the most potent bat attack in the league. A good year by what appears to be a classy infield could mean a notch or two higher.

HOUSTON: Very little has been changed from an eighth-place team that shows flashes each season of having possibilities. The only thing the Astros have to be concerned with is making sure of eighth, and should be thankful there are ten teams now instead of eight.

CHICAGO: Besides Ron Santo and Billy Williams, what is left besides a lot of question marks? The added experience and the humiliation of last season should boost the Cubs one notch upward.

NEW YORK: If Tommy Davis and Ken Boyer come through with flying colors the Mets could battle it out with the Cubs. Pitching is poor, but then what isn't on this club.

American League

BALTIMORE: Too many Robinson's, too many strong pitchers. The Orioles made it look easy in the regular season and in the World Series last season, and it looks like there is little hope for the rest of the league. To what already was a potent mound crew, has been added some promising newcomers, and rookie outfielder Mike Epstein is rated a can't miss star.

DETROIT: If the Tigers hadn't had so much trouble with Washington and New York last season they might have made it closer in the AL. Virtually nothing has been changed from last year's edition, but new pilot Mayo Smith may just put it all together this season.

MINNESOTA: The Twins have two big bats in Harmon Killebrew and BA king Tony Oliva, but may have traded away too much power with Jimmy Hall and Don Mincher going to the Angels, and Bernie Allen and Camilo Pascual to the Senators. Dean Chance could change Twins' position a notch either way.

CHICAGO: Pitching is still the biggest part of baseball, and the Chisox have it, plus Eddie Stanky with a year's experience. Any boost in a very weak hitting attack could make the Pale Hose the surprise of the season.

KANSAS CITY: The Athletics have what is considered the best young pitching staff in baseball with Lew Krausse, Jim Nash, Chuck Dobson, Catfish Hunter, Blue Moon Odom and Jack Aker. With a couple of hot bats, the A's could really come on strong this year.

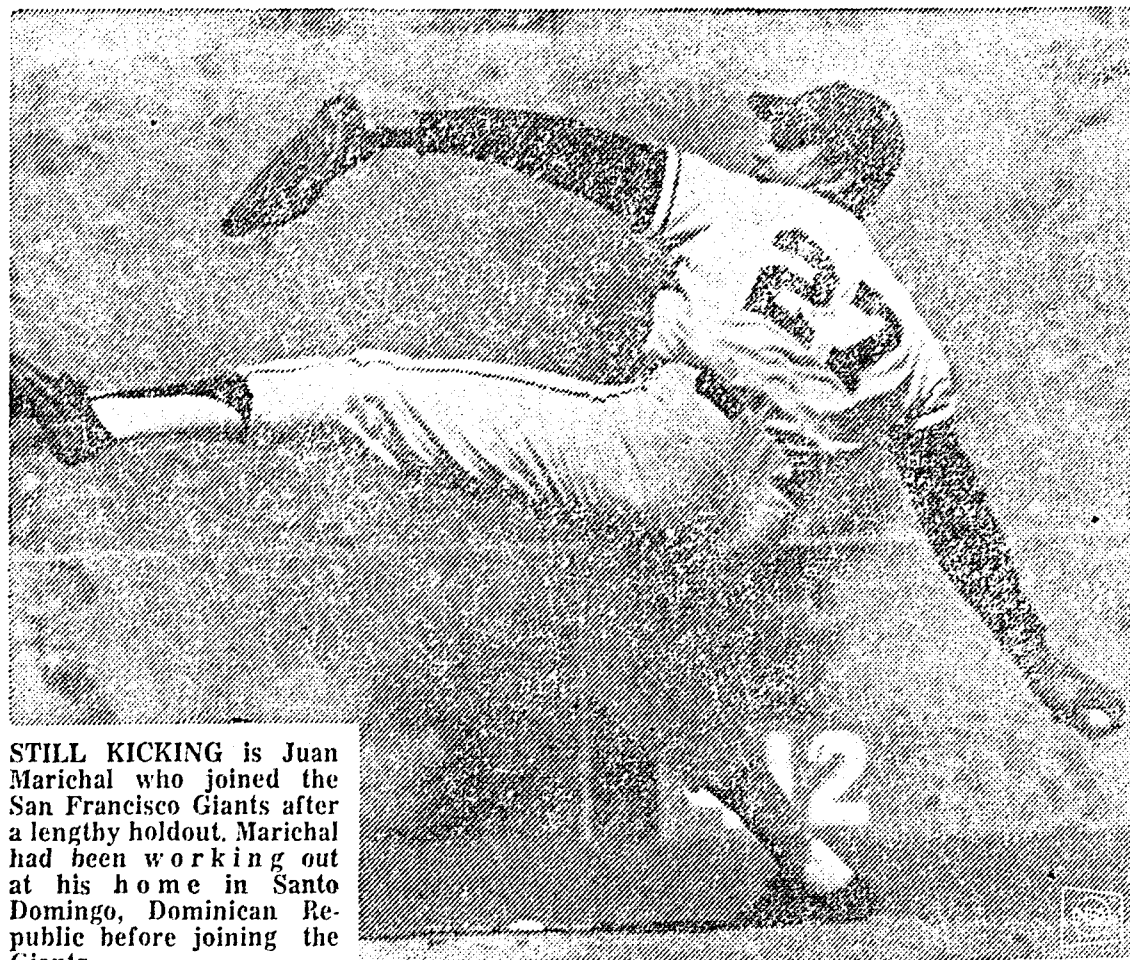

CLEVELAND: The Indians could finish higher if Sam McDowell and Luis Tiant have good years. Cleveland problems are mainly catching and finding some consistent hitters.

NEW YORK: We don't believe the Yanks were 'that' bad last year, and they have made a few moves, enough to move them back to respectability. Of course, a lot depends on the talented but injury-prone Mickey Mantle.

CALIFORNIA: The Angels could surprise if Rick Reichardt can hit 25-30 homers, and ex-Twins Hall and Mincher help the slugging attack. Team is loaded with good relief-hurlers.

WASHINGTON: The Senators figure to nip the Red Sox for ninth place. Gil Hodges is getting Frank Howard to change his batting stance, a lot depends on the outcome.

BOSTON: The Red Sox have good ball players in Carl Yastrzemski and Tony Conigliaro, but little else. Banking plenty on rookies Tom Horton and Reggie Smith.

STILL KICKING is Juan Marichal who joined the San Francisco Giants after a lengthy holdout. Marichal had been working out at his home in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic before joining the Giants.

'67 Season Opens Monday, Tuesday

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
Baltimore's defending world champions and the Pittsburgh Pirates are the solid favorites to win the major league pennants as the new season opens Monday and Tuesday after the greatest talent shuffle in many years.

Sandy Koufax has retired to the television booth and major trades have shunted Maury Wills to Pittsburgh. Roger Maris to St. Louis, Eddie Mathews to Houston, Dean Chance to Minnesota, Tommy Davis to the New York Mets and Ron Hunt to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Mickey Mantle has become the Yankee first baseman. Pete Rose has gone to the outfield for Cincinnati. Dick McAuliffe has shifted to second base at Detroit. Ron Swoboda is fooling around first for the Mets, and Mike Shannon is the Cards' third baseman.

Both the sports experts and the Las Vegas gamblers agree on the Orioles and the Pirates as the teams to meet in the World Series next October.

Three new managers make their bow in the American League — Mayo Smith at Detroit, Dick Williams at Boston and Joe Adcock at Cleveland.

The season starts with a two-game program Monday, allowing Washington and Cincinnati to exercise their special privileges of getting a jump on the rest of the clubs. All of the other teams will swing into action Tuesday with eight games, four of them at night.

The opening schedule:
Monday
American League
New York at Washington
National League
Los Angeles at Cincinnati

Tuesday
American League
Minnesota at Baltimore
Chicago at Boston
Detroit at California, night
Cleveland at Kansas City, night

Only games scheduled.
National League
Pittsburgh at New York
Philadelphia at Chicago
Atlanta at Houston, night
San Francisco at St. Louis, night

Only games scheduled.
President Lyndon Johnson is supposed to be on hand at D.C. Stadium to throw out the first ball before the Yankee-Senators game. The President or his relief specialist, Hubert Humphrey, will be out to snap a four-year losing streak. The streak goes back to the late President John F. Kennedy who did the honors in 1963 only to see the Senators lose to Baltimore.

The Dodgers, without Koufax but with Hunt at second base and ex-Pirate Bob Bailey in left field, will help the Reds stage their traditional opener at Cincinnati's Crosley Field.

Cubs Tip Sox Second Straight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs parlayed rookie Norm Gibson's pinch two-run homer and four Chicago White Sox errors into an 8-5 victory over their crosstown rivals at Wrigley Field Saturday.

It was the Cubs second straight triumph over the White Sox, who left Florida with an American League-leading mark of 15-8. The two clubs end the spring exhibition season at Comiskey Park Sunday.

Although the White Sox out-hit the Cubs—16-10—their miscues produced four unearned Bruin runs.

Ray Culp, second of three Cub pitchers, was the winner. Bob Locker, third of four Sox twirlers, was charged with the loss.

SEEKS BASKETBALL GAME
East Pike High school basketball coach Paul Ricker is looking for a game for the next cage season. Ricker reports he will sign a two-year contract, and will start the pact either at home or away.

Fifteen runs were scored in the first inning of a game between Brooklyn and Cincinnati on May 21, 1952. This was one run shy of the record of 16 for a first inning set in 1894 by Boston and Baltimore.

100-1 Shot Cops Grand National Steeplechase

AINTREE, England (AP) — Foinavon, a 100-1 shot, steered clear of an incredible pile-up at the 23rd of 30 obstacles Saturday and went on to post a 15-length victory for one of the biggest upsets in the 130-year history of the Grand National Steeplechase.

Foinavon, ridden by John Buckingham, earned $49,364 for his owner, C. P. T. Watkins of Britain.

Different Class, owned by film star Gregory Peck and one of the favorites, went down at the pile-up at the 23rd obstacle.

Foinavon was trailing badly until the horses reached that fence. A horse that had thrown its rider earlier touched off the pile-up, one of the worst in recent history, by bumping into one of the runners.

Both horses went down as did other oncoming horses and jockeys.

The fence claimed many of the 25 horses that didn't finish the race. Eighteen horses managed to complete the four-mile, 856-yard course which Foinavon covered in 9 minutes, 49.6 seconds.

Montreal Slips By New York 3-1 For 2-0 Margin

MONTREAL (AP) — Third-period goals by tough John Ferguson and elusive Ralph Backstrom carried Montreal's torrid Canadiens to a 3-1 victory over the New York Rangers Saturday with a 2-0 lead in the National Hockey League semifinal playoff series.

Ferguson, the NHL's penalty king, cracked a 1-1 tie with a power-play goal at 7:46 of the final period and Backstrom, who had scored twice in Montreal's 6-4 first-game victory Thursday night, added an insurance tally with 6½ minutes to play.

The Canadiens, who now have an unbeaten string of 13 games beginning in the final weeks of the regular season, resume their drive for a third straight Stanley Cup title at New York Tuesday night. The fourth game of the best-of-7 semifinal set will be played Thursday night on a wild pitch.

Montreal had taken a 1-0 lead in the first period on Dick Duff's power play tally.

3-Way Deadlock For Masters Lead

Ben Hogan Fires Into Contention

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Bert Yancey, Julius Boros and Bobby Nichols wound up in a tie at 211 in an exciting see-saw battle for first place but an astounding 66 by the immortal Ben Hogan, a ghost from out of the past, provided the high drama Saturday in the third round of the Masters Golf Tournament.

The 54-year-old Hogan, winning from the pain of an ailing shoulder and trudging along haltingly on legs shattered by a near-fatal automobile accident, reeled off six birdies in the space of nine holes in an astounding finish for a 54-hole score of 213.

He tied two Masters records and broke another with this brilliant late surge, but his greatest liability came in conquest of a bad case of putting jitters.

Tied With Brewer
His 213 placed him in a tie with Gay Brewer, who blew the hole at 214, shooting a par 72, and 22-year-old Tony Jacklin, the high school dropout from England, bogeyed the final hole.

Stringbean George Archer, with an eagle at the 13th, followed at 214, shooting a par 72, and 22-year-old Tony Jacklin, the high school dropout from England, bogeyed the final hole.

The exciting blanket finish and Hogan's rebound brilliance dimmed a temporary surge by popular Arnold Palmer, seeking his fifth title, in the fluctuating fortunes over the 6,900-yard, par 72 Augusta National course before a crowd of nearly 30,000 sweltering under 90-degree heat.

Breaks Birdie Famine
Palmer broke his birdie famine to go four under par through 16 holes. But he three-putted the 17th and hit his approach into a trap at the 18th for a 70 for 216.

He was tied there with Jacky Cupit, who shot 67, and Gary Player, the determined little master from Johannesburg, who shot a 72.

Hogan reeled off four birdies in a row around the treacherous and feared "Amen Corner," the 10th through the 13th, where the tournament often has been won and lost, missed an eagle on the 520-yard 15th by inches and climaxed his round with a 20-foot birdie putt on the final hole.

He was given a standing and worshipful ovation by the thousands rimming the green. Ben tipped his hat and his usually grim, granite-like face broke into a small grin.

"Maybe I've licked it — maybe I haven't," he commented later of the putting nerves that have plagued him and almost run him into retirement over the last 14 years.

Ties Masters Record
His four straight birdies tie an all-time Masters record and his incoming 39 matched the best nine ever played here — by Jimmy Demaret in 1940 and Gene Littler in 1966.

The 66 was his 38th sub par round — an unchallenged mark in his 25 appearances in this famed tournament conceived by

Horses Withdrawn
However, the horses were withdrawn a few hours later with the owners, George D. Widener and Dr. Leon Levy, saying no useful purpose would be gained by running Ring Twice and Model Fool. With quickly canceled the announced bizarre one-race program.

Although none of the principals would discuss the subject, The Associated Press learned that representatives of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Speaker of the Assembly Anthony Travia and Jack Dreyfus, New York financier and temporary head of the New York division of the HBPA, have been in contact by telephone.

Several ways of breaking the impasse have been discussed. One would be a special session of the Legislature to act on the measure cutting the state's percentage of the wagering from 10 to 9½ per cent.

But that appears unlikely in view Travia, a Democrat, refused to let the bill get out of the assembly's Rules Committee after it had been recommended by Gov. Rockefeller and approved by the Republican controlled Senate.

Eastern Rallies To Nip Illini

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Eastern Illinois rallied for two runs in the bottom of the fifth and defeated Illinois 2-1 Saturday in a game cut to 5½ innings because of rain.

Illinois took the lead in the fifth and Eastern came to score twice with Arniz Brzonek singling home a run, advancing to third on an error and scoring on a wild pitch.

Illinois 000 010 — 1 3 1
Eastern Ill. 000 002x — 2 3 1
Wojcik, Sanford (5) and Rizzo Pearce and Burns.

Ben Hogan

Bob Jones.
Hogan said, "I've never played harder. I'm tired but I feel okay."

There was a rather ironic twist in the press room interviews in the big green quonset hut that serves some 1,200 news and television men.

After Hogan finished his interview with, "Thanks fellows, it's nice of you to talk to me," Palmer was called to the question stand.

The room emptied out after the little man, and Palmer was left to talk to many empty chairs.

Rain Hinders Local Sports

The heavy Saturday morning rain in Jacksonville played havoc with a heavy local sports calendar. Two baseball double-headers scheduled for local diamonds and a tennis match were all rained out.

The MacMurray-Bemidji, Minn. twinbill never got underway, and was postponed because the visitors have a tight schedule on what for them is a southern tour.

The Knox-Illinois College doubleheader likewise never got started, but has been rescheduled. IC will travel to Knox for a single game April 17.

Jacksonville High's tennis squad was rained out of two matches for the second time. The Crimson were slated to meet both Quincy and Christian Brothers in town Saturday. The matches will be rescheduled for the third time sometime this week.

The Jacksonville at Decatur Mar-A-Thur twinbill scheduled for Decatur got underway, but was halted after two innings with the Crimson leading 2-0.

At least the first game of the pair will be rescheduled, because it will count in the Capitol Conference standings.

Hogan: Putting Impediment May Be Licked Now

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "That was like going to the blood bank and giving blood 18 times a day," tired old triumphant Ben Hogan said Saturday after temporarily whipping what he called "my putting impediment."

"I've got blood in every cup on this course," Hogan added after a magnificent 66 in the third round of the Masters Golf Tournament. "But maybe I've got my putting problems licked. I hope I have."

The six under par round ignited the massive Masters gallery and swept the 54-year-old campaigner into contention for the title he last won in 1953.

"I don't know what it is, but something licks between my ears — maybe it's sawdust — and I just can't swing the putter back, said Hogan, who hasn't played in a tournament since June and hasn't won since 1959.

"That's why it takes me so long to putt, and I know its awful for the people to watch."

"But I felt much better about it today, and maybe I've got it licked."

"I worked about as hard as I have ever worked," Hogan added. "I'm tired, but I feel fine."

"I don't know if I can win it — probably the other guys would have to fall over dead for me to do that — but I promise you I'll play just as hard tomorrow as I ever have in my life."

Mac Relay Squad 5th, 6th In Wabash Field

WABASH, Ind. — Two Mac-relay relay teams captured a 4th and a sixth in the tough Wabash Relays, here Saturday.

No team scores are kept in the Monday morning for Vice Presidential relay event. Twenty-two schools and 500 athletes competed in the event Saturday.

The distance medley relay team of Mark Matrangola, Joe Tothert, Jim McGinnis and Dennis Mueclier took fifth in their event, with a timing of 10:54.2, four seconds off the school record.

The 440 relay group of Gordon Bunge, Rich Pincusky, Art Hammon and Fred Robinson captured sixth, with a timing of 4:46.

The Highlanders will compete in the Monmouth Relays next Saturday.

LEWIS DOWNS CARTHAGE
LOKPORT, Ill. (AP)—Nick Mirbelli rapped out three hits and drove in two runs to lead Lewis College to an 8-5 baseball victory over Carthage College Saturday.

The Bowling Scene

by Sandy Petersen

Strong individual performances by Sterling Elliott, Russ Zulauf and George Manker, and numerous fierce title battles highlighted last week's home stretch bowling league action.

Elliott rolled a high 264 game, while Zulauf and Manker shared respective four and three game series honors with 895 and 655 counts.

City-Wide highs for the year in these departments are: Rich Dixon's 279, a 923 by Gerald Lacey, and Manker's 738.

Elliott's 264 was the finale in a 641 series that also included 182 and 195 marks. The effort sparked the hot-shooting May's Music Shop unit to a lead-gaining sweep in the Monday Senior Commercial League.

Cock-A-Doodle, which entered the action tied for the lead, went 2-1 to rate one game back.

The leaders shot both high team tallies for the night (1148 and 3262) behind Elliott's total, a 640 by C. Watts, R. McLintock's 625 and a 586 by E. May and W. Baptist's 470.

Games of 229, 213, 236 and 217 maneuvered Zulauf's 895 which came in 3-Man Handicap League play. The Bowling Center squad lost a game off its league lead, but still stand five games up on Hembrough Motors with eight to go.

Team high counts went to Powell's Body Shop on a 2191 total, and the Hilltoppers' 895. Manker's strong outing was posted in the Topper League, and led to a week high 655 series.

Seymour Builders holds a two-game advantage over Village Printer with three sessions remaining.

Amvets copped team bests on 1044 and 3070 figures.

The air-tight Community League race remained up for grabs last week, as only one of the 12 entrants has been eliminated from title contention with three sessions to go.

Only six games separate the top 11, headed by deadlocked Jim's Big Value and Strubbe Paint. The latter unit, which swept to gain the tie, rolled the high total of 3092, while ninth-place Pepsi Cola notched a 1092 best game.

Overshadowed by the fierce team jockeying were superb individual totaling by Charles Snodgrass and George Shillings. Snodgrass recorded a 214, 190, 208-612, while Shillings reeled off a 257 single.

Marian Manker's 165, 168, 210-543 aided Queen Pin League leading Dunlap Court Beverages to a 2-1 decision last week for an expanded 2½-game lead over Meadow Gold. The runner-ups went 0-3.

Mrs. Manker's scores rated week high efforts, as did the leaders' 830 and 2325 totals.

Orleans Grain powered to a commanding lead in the Civic League which has only three nights remaining. Second place Adams Sales and Service, which went into the action only a game back, rated 1-2 to fall three off the pace.

Floyd Schilling paced fourth-place Marshall Chevrolet to high team tallies of 1081 and 3144 with a strong 177, 221, 211-609 posting. George Fox shared high game honors with his 221.

With only nine games to go, Hillcrest Mobile Homes has virtually wrapped up the Plamora League championship. Last week's 2-1 outing gave the leaders a seven game spread over Swift's Hatchery, and an insurmountable 11-game bulge on third-place A.C.W.A.

Donna Strape aided Hertzberg to week high totals of 838 and 2363 with a fine 210, 183, 181-574 performance.

George's Pizza produced a 2-1 night in a last ditch effort to overtake the Triangle Club's City League lead last week. Four and a half games separate the top runners, with nine games remaining.

Dean Colwell tallied a 199, 256, 159-614 in leading T & C Sales to team set honors - 3036. The leaders took the game high on a 1063 total.

Despite a 1-2 setback, Bates Market closed in on the Bowlerette League title last week as second place Backhawk Restaurant, seven-games back, also went 1-2.

Blackhawk's high 824 and 2370 totals failed to earn lead-shaving results.

Sally Hinnau recorded a 202 game, while Wanda Waters connected 192, 155 and 193 for a 540 set in gaining individual honors.

Baker Chevrolet lifted its Elks League advantage to an almost insurmountable 5½-game over defending champion Jacksonville Foods No. two last week, via a 3-0 sweep.

Clarence Watts of the third-running Cox Buick unit managed an impressive 211, 175, 230-

4 Local Swimmers Enter Nationals

Four members of the Jacksonville YMCA Swim Team have been entered in the 40th National YMCA Indoor Swimming and Diving Championships to be held at the Principia Pool, 13201 Clayton Road, St. Louis, Missouri. The Metropolitan St. Louis YMCA is hosting the meet, scheduled for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 13, 14, and 15.

Local swimmers competing in the meet are Andy Applebee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth Applebee, #5 Westwood Place, John Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathews, 10 Book Ln., Eric Rammelkamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rammelkamp, 729 West State, and Steve Reuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Reuck, 135 N. Webster.

Each of the boys is well known locally as top swimmers in the Jacksonville area. They will be competing with more than 350 top YMCA swimmers from many parts of the United States. Entries have been received from such swimming areas as Westfield, N.J., Dayton, Ohio, Kalamazoo, Michigan, Huntington, W. Va., Allentown, Pa., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Toledo Ohio, Bronx, N.Y. and Salina, Kansas. In all, some 75 YMCA's will have entries.

This will be the first time Jacksonville has ever been represented in the Nationals. Leading the local group will be Applebee, who last Saturday won the Illinois State YMCA 200-yard freestyle championship. In winning, Applebee swam the race in a new state record time of 2:00.3 Minutes. Mathews is entered in the 100-yard breaststroke. Reuck will swim in the 100-yard backstroke event. Rammelkamp will represent the local "Y" in the 100-yard butterfly. The boys are entered in both the 400-yard medley and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Mickey Walker, the local swimming coach, is high in praise of these boys who led the "Y" team to a third place finish in the Illinois State Swimming Championships. Bob Mowry, YMCA Executive Director, will accompany the boys to St. Louis.

Preliminary events will begin each day at 1:00 p.m. with the finals for each day's events beginning at 8:00 p.m.

New Soccer Group Set To Open Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Walsh, a boyish-looking 41-year-old who once traveled 6,000 miles to Japan with baseball's Brooklyn Dodgers, is urging all sports fans to see the USA.

That's because he is the new commissioner of the USA, the United Soccer Association, which begins play Wednesday night in Chicago's Comiskey Park with the first of six games of an invitational series featuring top teams from Europe and South America. The opener matches Red Star of Yugoslavia and Atletico of Spain.

The series precedes the start of the circuit's regular season on May 26 during which European, Latin American and South American teams will represent Los Angeles, San Francisco, Houston, Dallas, Vancouver, Toronto, New York, Boston, Washington, Cleveland, Chicago and Detroit.

"Soccer is much more exciting than baseball," Walsh said. "And the spectators will know for sure that every game is going to be a two-hour event, an hour and half of constant action plus an intermission between halves."

Walsh himself went sno rest. He has been going full steam ahead since July, 1948 when he joined the Dodgers' organization as a front office man for their

Clan Netmen Salvage 5-4 Win At Knox

GALESBURG — Deadlocked 3-4 after singles competition, MacMurray captured the first two doubles events to edge Knox, 5-4, in a dual match here Saturday afternoon.

John Hribar and Lance Hudgens combined for a 10-5 (pro sets) victory in the number one doubles, and Barr Jozwicki and Bob Christensen team up for a 10-4 decision to insure the Clan's third victory against a single loss this season.

Hribar and Christensen remained undefeated in singles competition for the season with respective 10-4 and 10-3 counts, and Hudgens posted a narrow 11-9 victory in singles. Jozwicki suffered his first singles defeat of the year.

The meet was the first of the season for Knox.

The local teams involved are Hertzberg Bookworms, captained by Norma Lowe, and Blackhawk Village Restaurant, captained by Georgia Tribble. Bowl teams are slated to bowl April 23 at 6 p.m.

The tournament, a "feature" of the Woman's International Bowling Congress' 50th anniversary season, will open with the team event at Gates Bowl on April 13 and will close May 28. Singles and doubles competition will start April 14 and close May 28 at Olympic Bowl.

A record breaker in every respect, the '67 tournament boasts the largest five-woman team, boubles and singles entries vying for a record prize fund of $296,760. Doubles entries totaled 1,000 and singles 21,600.

LOOKING FOR HIS PITCH

MIAMI, Fla. — (NEA) — A conversation with Mike Epstein begins like this:

"I have never really given credence to the fact that I might fail at anything that I have earnestly endeavored to put so much effort into."

Mike Epstein, erstwhile sociology major at the University of California, sat on an equipment trunk in the corridor just off the dressing room of the Baltimore Orioles. The champions of the baseball world make their spring headquarters in Miami Stadium.

Although he is only a rookie, Mike is one of their most conspicuous members. He stands 6 feet 3½ and wears a size 18 shirt. He also gets more attention that a man of his stature normally merits because: 1) he was the minor league player of the year for hitting .309 and slugging .298 at Rochester last year; 2) he is a colorful character who has alluded to himself as SuperJew; 3) Hank Bauer has the ticklish problem of deciding whether to keep Mike on his roster this year as a converted outfielder or ship him out for more seasoning which he doesn't really need.

Sitting on the trunk, out of the mainstream of traffic, Mike said reflectively, "I'm confronted with a situation now where I'm getting a lot of publicity. Some of the other players resent it. I'm beginning to see it. Their attitude is, 'Let me see you do something first.' Justifiably."

Mike spent his first two years in the Oriole system playing first base, where he feels at home. But Baltimore is protected at that spot by the bulky figure of John (Boog) Powell, who is even bigger than Mike physically, and in the prime of life, so the rookie was sent to the club's Instructional League team in Clearwater, Fla., during the winter to learn the mechanics of playing left field.

"I'm caught in a vacuum," said Mike. "When I originally got down here to Miami, I covorted so much in the outfield that I neglected my hitting for quite awhile." (He really talks like that — you can almost see Mike framing the words visually in type as he enunciates his sentences.)

Later, in the Oriole dugout, manager Bauer gruffly de-livered, "I know — you're going to ask about the rookie outfielder. Everybody else has asked. That's all they want to talk about. I can tell you he's not going to sit around. You don't put someone like him on the bench. He's got to play."

Otherwise, inferentially, Epstein will be sent back to the Place For 'Y'

Team In State

ROCKFORD — Two seventh-place finishes were the best turned in by members of the Jacksonville YMCA girls swim team, in the state finals here Saturday. Chicago area teams completely dominated the event, as downstate squads recorded very few high finishes.

Nan McCurdy captured seventh in the prep division breaststroke, and Susie Sullivan tied for seventh in the midget butterfly.

Other results of local swimmers were the midget girls team of Sherly Hanley, Susie Sullivan, Susan Bellatti, Mariann Ryan and Lauri McCulloch combined to capture a ninth place with Moline, and eighth in the free-style relay; and Susan Bellatti took 11th in the midget breaststroke.

Bob Aspromonte singled home two runs off Whitey Ford in the first inning and Dave Giusti and Bo Belinsky made them stand up as the Astros beat the New York Yankees 2-0 in a night game at Houston.

Former Yankee Clete Boyer doubled home two runs in the Braves' 4-0 victory over Minnesota under the lights at Atlanta.

3RD STRAIGHT FOR SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Southern Illinois easily captured its third straight national women's collegiate gymnastics title Friday night.

Southern Illinois piled up 168 points, well ahead of runnerup Centenary, La., with 146. Only as scheduled, despite a strike by announcers and widespread speculation the telecast would be canceled.

University of New Mexico with 115 and Kent State with 135.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

The starting point in golf is the grip. You have only one direct connection with the club and that is your hands. Therefore, any error in this coupling will result in many more errors on down the line.

It is imperative that your grip be correct in every facet in order to insure proper functioning of the rest of the swing. A proper grip is one in which the club is always held in the fingers and not in the palms of hands.

A closer look shows that the shaft lies in the fingers of the left hand running diagonally from the first knuckle of the first finger to the last knuckle of the small finger. The same is true of the right hand fingers. The club rests only in the fingers.

The left thumb comes to rest just to the right of the shaft center and the right thumb just to the left of the shaft center. This is done by overlapping the little finger of the right hand with the first finger of the left. This gives the hands the opportunity to work as a unit and keeps them from working separately.

Prayer Poem

Brawn And Brain

By Mary Pence Claywell

There'll always be a lot of jobs,
For those who like to work,
And he who does a humble one,
And neither cheats, nor shirks,
Must use both BRAIN and BRAIN today,

As in the ages, past . . .
For there will be a varied lot,
As long . . . as this world lasts:
Some one to ROCK a CRADLE
Some one to RAKE and HOE . . .
Some one to use a HAND MOP,
To make an old floor glow:
God's WORD includes BOTH

RICH and POOR,
So RICH and POOR, we'll always see,

Regardless of a million dreams,
Or any . . . great society:
Oh Wise, All-seeing, Mighty
God,

Whose PLANS, no man on earth can FOIL,
We thank Thee, for the rich soul
food,

That comes to us through honest toil:
And the GREATEST SOURCE of HAPPINESS,
In this BELOVED LAND . . .
Has sprung from GODLY WISDOM, And WILLING hearts, and hands:

We know it's GOOD TO PROSPER . . .
And callouses . . . grow sore . . .
But souls CAN'T feed on IDLENESS.

No more . . . than days of yore:
CHRIST toiled, when He was here on earth,
Just like His fellow-men . . .
Nor did He Promise more to those

Who chose to FOLLOW HIM:
Please make us REALISTS once more,
Not lost in foolish DREAMS . . .
For surely . . . Heaven won't be run
BY COMPUTERS . . . and MACHINES.

Birds Sing

Birds begin to sing,
Bells begin to ring,
Kites begin to swing, in the air.

Look over there at the mare, and look at the girl's long

Like I said,
On March 21st
Birds sing,
Bells ring,
Kites swing,

All in the wonderful season of Spring.

By Christine Hembrough

Recently during the Mac Murray College Newspaper Conference, I stayed all night in the Harker Hall Dormitory with Mary Kovar. She is a sophomore majoring in math and she has a real canny hobby. She collects cans!

She has about five hundred coca cola, sprite, and other various soda pop cans arranged in the form of a pyramid which hasn't yet been completed. Her can stack reaches approximately four feet in height. They take up about nine inches by sixteen inches of space.

All of the cans are empty. She and her friends helped to empty them. The tops are linked together and form her chain. We don't know exactly how long her chain is—but I'd say about four feet.

Just exactly how did she pick up his hobby? Mary says, "Well it actually started as a joke last October. One night I had a party and everybody kept piling their coke cans on my desk. Pretty soon it covered my whole desk and we had to put them on the floor. We just stacked them."

"I just never threw any of them out. I want to get it all the way up to the ceiling. After that I guess I'll have to throw them away. I'm really going to hate throwing them away, though. I'll have to take a picture of them before I do."

I asked, "Why do you have to throw them away?" Mary said, "Well—when I go home this summer—I don't think my parents would appreciate me bringing home a bunch of cans. Be sides, they'd take up an awful lot of room in my suitcases. They cover the whole floor when they're single."

What about her chain of tops? Think she'll take them with her? Well, Mary is undecided but I would. It would be the only thing left to remind her of her great canny hobby.

"How about authority? Do they know that you have them? Did they ask you to get rid of them?"

"Yes, I think they've seen them. No, they haven't said anything about them. There isn't really anything they can do about them. They're not disturbing anything or anyone. They're not peeling the wall of it's paint. It doesn't mar the tile. Just as long as they're not doing anything like that—they sumed their grayness. The Cardinal on the feeder grew red and black again. The wind was battering him, twisting his tail. The Cardinal sat undaunted but uttered no spring call. He wisely knew why.

Once upon a time there was a very funny car. That car talked to a cow that had no tail and a hen that laughed and a car that had square wheels. That car was very, very funny, but the car that talked was much funnier.

can't say a thing about them." "Just about how much money is in those cans?"

"Around $75.00—actually more than that. Each can costs 15¢. Boy, am I glad I didn't drink all of them! That's terrific! $75.00 worth of soda! Gee, just think of how far $75 would go toward my education!"

Seventy dollars is an awful lot of money to spend on soda. Five-hundred empty cans are really a sight to see. Just imagine sixteen cans lined next to each other horizontally. Imagine this nine times—and you have the bottom row. Try the same with fifteen. Keep on—seven more times. There are nine full rows going up and there's another one started.

That's how a bunch of cans look. Seventy-five dollars worth! Oh, how canny can you get???

Thanks! Again, I'd like to thank Mary Kovar for her hospitality and letting me share this wonderful hobby with you. We really had a ball the night I stayed with her.

I kept the poor girl up till 3:30 a.m. asking her hundreds and hundreds of questions. Most of them were pertaining to Mac Murray College. I really learned a lot especially about the life of a college student on weekends.

SOLAR STORM WARNING

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

Solar prominences were photographed during Feb. 22, 1962 total eclipse. They may last several hours or more, reach tremendous heights. White circle at right represents size of earth.

Solar storms, like the one shown above, can send a wave of radiation racing through space at the speed of light. They reach earth in less than half an hour where they can be fatal to astronauts and even damage delicate equipment on unmanned satellites.

The Air Force's Office of Aerospace Research (OAR) is constructing a 200 ton solar vacuum telescope in New Mexico to aid in providing a warning of these deadly proton showers. The $3.3 million telescope, scheduled for completion by 1968, will provide more accurate forecast of solar storms covering a longer period of time.

World's Largest
The 328 foot long telescope, of which 193 feet are below the surface and 135 feet above ground, will be the largest solar vacuum telescope in the world. It is to be a major supplement to the facilities already at the Air Force's Sacramento Peak Observatory (Sac Peak) near Sunspot, N. M.

Excavation of a 220-foot vertical shaft was finished in November and is now nearly half concrete lined. Construction of a 135 foot cone-shaped tower above ground and an adjoining laboratory will begin this spring.

The vacuum telescope is based on the design concept of Dr. Richard Dunn of Sac Peak. Two design features will give the telescope exceptional usefulness and clear viewing. The entire 150 to 200 ton optical system, in the 328 foot tube will float on a pool of mercury and rotate as it tracks the sun.

The second feature is a vacuum surrounding this optical system, eliminating dust collection and air currents which hamper the viewing with normal telescopes. A pair of vacuum pumps will evacuate the entire optical system to working pressure in about four hours, draining out 17,000 cubic feet of air. The resulting vacuum would correspond to an altitude of 180,000 feet.

9,200 Feet High
Sac Peak is located 9,200 feet up in the Sacramento Mountains. Its new telescope, together with existing equipment, will establish the observatory as one of the most complete centers in the world for studying the sun and its effects on the Solar System.

In addition to predicting "safe periods" for space flight, the Dinner Honors Abe's Successor As Postmaster At New Salem

BEARDSTOWN — The man who succeeded Abraham Lincoln as postmaster at Lincoln's New Salem has retired and was honored at a dinner at the Malden Inn here.

He is John W. Gellerman, postmaster at New Salem from February in 1940 to Nov. 1966 when he suffered a heart attack which forced his retirement.

After Lincoln's postmaster-ship the little office at New Salem was closed, according to Postmaster Arthur Dirks of Petersburg, and it was not reopened until Mr. Gellerman took the office.

During his career Postmaster Gellerman has host to scores of dignitaries, including royalty from foreign lands and high officials from all parts of the world who visited New Salem shrines. He has a large collection of Lincoln pictures and mementos and has interested himself in Lincoln history.

Bill Bley reported to police he had struck a deer on the highway near Frederick Sunday night.

Conservation department officials were informed of the mishap.

The United States has about 780 junior colleges with a total attendance of 1.15 million students.

Business — Market Wrapup

Week in Business

Discount Rate Cutback Hints Expansion Ahead

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The money market eased further during the week, heightening the prospects of business expansion.

The Federal Reserve Board approved a cut in its discount rate to 4 per cent from 4½ per cent.

This reduced the interest that member banks have to pay on borrowings from the Federal Reserve system.

The discount rate is the base from which other interest charges stem.

A tight money condition prevailed last year and high-interest rates held down borrowing by business for expansion and modernization.

The first break came in late January when Chase Manhattan Bank of New York reduced its prime rate — the interest charged the biggest and most credit-worthy borrowers — to 5½ per cent from 6 per cent.

Most banks cut only to 5½ per cent then. But in late March they came down to 5½.

Another indication of the easing money situation came last Monday when the yield on Treasury bills dropped below 4 per cent for the first time in 18 months.

Commenting on the Federal Reserve Board's action, a New York banker said, "In time, consumers should be able to borrow more cheaply but, by the same token, probably will get less for their savings."

The Federal Reserve approved the reduction at the request of directors of Federal Reserve banks in 10 of the system's 12 districts.

The lower rate became effective Friday in the Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Richmond, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Dallas and San Francisco districts.

The Atlanta and St. Louis banks were expected to follow.

The board said the reduction was in line with recent declines in market rates and is in keeping with the Federal Reserve policy objectives in assuring that availability of credit is adequate to provide for orderly economic growth.

Television stars and truck drivers and race horse owners were in the same boat during the week.

All were in strife with the people who pay their salaries, wages and purses.

This turmoil made its impact on business and the public and was an indication that 1967 may live up to forecasts of the most serious labor troubles in recent years.

The public was most aware of the strike of the 18,000 members of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists against the three big networks — NBC, CBS and ABC — and their affiliated stations.

David Brinkley and Johnny Carson were off the air. Hugh Downs, John Daly and Betty Furness hit the bricks to picket.

Some shows were dropped and replaced with reruns. Networks' troubles mounted as unions representing stagehands, electricians and other nonperforming television and radio employees honored AFTRA picket lines.

At stake for the networks were millions of dollars in advertising revenues.

The strike stemmed from the demand of television newsmen for a minimum salary of $325 a week, plus percentages of commercial fees.

The 50,000 member Teamsters Union was locked in negotiations for a new contract with the trucking industry. Federal mediators worked to stave off a threatened nationwide shutdown.

Union sources indicated that local unions in some areas were becoming restive.

The union sought a 56 cents an hour wage increase over three years and the operators offered 37 cents. Truckers now make from $3.25 to $5 an hour, plus fringe benefits.

The horses didn't run at New York's Aqueduct Race Track because of a demand by the stable owners for higher purses.

When the legislature failed to authorize a bigger share of betting proceeds for purses, the 2,000 owners and trainers refused to enter horses in any races.

Among the holdouts were financiers John Hay Whitney and Jack Dreyfus Jr.

They didn't call their action a strike but it had that effect.

On the horizon are labor contract negotiations in the automobile and building industries with unions reportedly expecting hefty wage boosts.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York said during the week the most recent economic information points to "a continued moderation in the pace of overall activity."

It added that "unusually severe weather conditions" through March "significantly affected production and sales."

The bank noted that positive factors in the economic picture were the prospect of restoration of the 7 per cent business investment credit and an easing of the money market.

The Johnson administration was reported backing away from a July 1 effective date for its proposed 6 per cent surtax on income taxes.

This, it was said, was because of opposition in Congress to the surtax and the current sluggishness in the economy.

However, key officials insisted that the surtax was still very much alive and will be needed in the second half of the year to stem inflation in what they predict will then be an expanding economy.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Slaughter steers and heifers were strong to 25 cents higher at the Chicago Stockyards this week, but butcher hogs were mostly 50 cents lower. Sheep receipts were so small only a limited number of slaughter lambs tested the price market.

Cattle receipts for the week at Chicago totaled 23,800 head, compared with 22,300 a week earlier.

Prime slaughter steers brought $26.00 to $26.75 and high choice and prime kinds $25.25 to $26.25. High choice to $26.25. High choice and prime slaughter heifers went at $24.25 to $25.00.

Hog receipts at Chicago totaled 27,300 for the week, compared with 27,600 a week earlier.

Most 1-2 butchers sold at $18.00 to $18.50, but 45 head topped at $19.25. Mixed 1-3s sold at $17.25 to $18.00 and mixed 1-3 sows $15.50 to $16.00.

Sheep receipts at Chicago totaled 700 head compared with 2,500 a week earlier.

Receipts of slaughter lambs and shorn slaughter ewes were too small to provide an adequate test of the market.

The federal government's public debt has been going up since World War II, when two-thirds of the present debt was incurred, but not as swiftly as the national output of goods and services. As a percentage of the Gross National Product, the debt has thus declined sharply since the end of the war and the downward trend is continuing.

Wheat Futures Spark Grain Market Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures fluctuated again this week mainly on the fall of rain, but prices firmed up later in the week and turned a 3½ cents a bushel or the lack of it, and the rest loss into an advance of about ½ of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Reports of little, if any, precipitation the next two days tended to advance prices a total of about 3 cents a bushel.

The other grains generally moved in the same direction as wheat but to a lesser degree. Soybeans, however, continued to be an exception in light trade.

A Kansas farmer who formerly was a crop analyst reported Wednesday that the Kansas winter wheat crop would fall about 28 per cent short of the five-year average of 232 million bushels.

This report tended to advance prices. On the last trading day of the week, wheat opened slightly lower, but about 30 minutes later an authoritative crop analyst in Chicago estimated that the U.S. winter wheat production this year would fall about 127 million bushels short of the government's estimate last December.

The trade had expected a more bullish report from the analyst and his figure of 1,155,647,000 (b) bushels had a bearish effect on the market.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will make its own winter wheat crop production report Monday, after the close of trading. The USDA had estimated in December farmers would produce 1,282,860,000 (b) bushels this year. The 1966 crop totaled 1,056,821,000 bushels. This year, however, more acres have been planted to wheat.

Discount Rate News Causes Worst Market Losses Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market last week took its worst loss of 1967 as a cut in the discount rate failed to offset other depressing factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 3.6 points to 317.8, its worst weekly loss since the week ended Dec. 31 when it fell 4.8.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 12.64 to 853.34.

The drop in the Dow industrials brought the average down through the heralded support level of 858-860.

Despite a severe drop Monday, the average had managed to remain above the support all week until Friday when another sharp decline dragged the indicator through the resistance line.

Many investors were caught by surprise, believing the cut in the discount rate by the Federal Reserve Board would signal a brand new rally in the stock market. More experienced traders, however, sold while the market had a brief flurry on the news Friday morning.

Many of them took long term capital gains on stock bought cheaply last October.

Analysts said the market pretty well had anticipated the cut in the discount rate.

The two big declines on Monday and Friday just about told the story of the week. Movements were very slight on the other three days.

Of 1,592 issues traded this week, 855 declined and 590 advanced.

Volume of the week totaled 44,679,530 shares compared with 43,112,590 the previous week.

The cut in the discount rate spurred the bond market last week. The reduction brought sizable

There was some good commission house, commercial interests and local trade activity in all three major grain pits. Liquidation figured in a decline of corn prices during two sessions, but there was strength in corn at the close.

Soybeans, showing little activity and trader support for several weeks, moved actively the last two trading sessions, under influence of good export notices and commercial buying. Soybean oil and soybean meal tended to move along with the base product.

Oats and rye moved with corn and wheat, but trade was light. Choice steers were actively traded most of the week, but declined toward the close under some light liquidation. Local traders and commission houses were good supporters of steers.

Steinheimer Backed By C. Of C. Women For Lane Bryant Award

The Woman's Division of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a local candidate for the 1966 annual Lane Bryant Awards, which honor individuals and groups for outstanding civic, community, state or national service.

A year ago the division acted as agent for the Lane Bryant nominations and the publicity provided in the local press was reproduced in printed matter sent nationally to all Chambers of Commerce.

IRS Agents Raid White Hall VFW, Get 3 Machines

J. G. Philpott, director of internal revenue for the Springfield district, reports that at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, special agents from his office seized three slot machines, of the one-armed bandit type, at the White Hall V.F.W. Post.

The machines were being used in violation of the internal revenue laws, Philpott said, in that a special tax return had not been filed and the $250 tax required for each machine had not been paid.

Clarence Vincent Dies, Services In Cass Monday

BEARDSTOWN — Clarence Edward Vincent, 73, of rural Arenzville passed away early Saturday at Schmitt hospital where he had been a patient since Feb. 25.

Born in Morgan County May 28, 1893; he was the son of Edward and Margaret Butcher Vincent. He was married Jan. 20, 1920 to the former Lucinda Pate, who survives.

Also surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Withrow of Beardstown; one son, Charles Osborn, at home, a grandfather, two brothers, Ruel of Beardstown and Everett of Bluffs and two sisters, Mrs. Lottie McGovern of Beardstown and Mrs. Mary Myers, Quincy.

His parents and three brothers: James, John and Lloyd, preceded him in death.

Mr. Vincent, a veteran of World War One, was a member of the Assembly of God church at Beardstown where funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday, Reverend Lottie Morrow officiating. Burial will be in Beardstown City cemetery.

Friends may call at the Cline Funeral Home.

UpDeGraff Rites Held

Funeral services for Morse T. UpDeGraff were conducted at the Gilliam-Buchanan Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Saturday with Dr. Frank Nestler officiating. Mrs. Genevieve Wood served as organist.

Pallbearers were Al Eades, Cliff Sibert, Lewis Sims, H. L. Mayberry, Pryor Bossarte and William D. Jarrett.

Burial was in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

Masonic rites were conducted at the funeral home at 9 p.m. Friday by members of Jacksonville Lodge 570 with Gerald N. Drum as master, Lewis Sims, secretary and William D. Jarrett, chaplain.

MILLER, SPEAKS WIN IN UNIT 16

NEW BERLIN — Light voting was reported in School Board balloting in Community Unit 16, which includes Berlin, Curran, Loami and New Berlin.

Frank Miller, who received 250 votes and Robert Speaks, 221, were elected. Ira Lions, the third candidate, had 58 votes and Harry Kumble received one write-in vote. A total of 530 votes were cast in Saturday's election.

Miller was an incumbent member of the board. Speaks will succeed Harold Dodd, a member for 13 years and a former board president, who did not seek re-election.

Local Contractor Gives Low Bids On Two Projects

A Jacksonville firm is the apparent low bidder for construction projects to be conducted in two neighboring counties.

The Caldwell Engineering Company submitted two bids totaling over $217,000 to the Illinois Division of Highways for a project in Macoupin County and another in Sangamon County.

The Macoupin County project involves about three-quarters of a mile of bituminous surface treatment on base course from two miles northwest of Hettick, northwesterly, including a bridge over Joe's Creek. The bid submitted for this project is $160,683.

And, the local firm bid $56,966 for the Sangamon County project which calls for the furnishing and installation of sanitary sewers for the new highway administration building in Springfield.

The bid will be analyzed by engineers of the Highways Division before contracts are awarded.

Jokisch, Colburn Win In Virginia School Election

VIRGINIA — Voters of school district 64 at Virginia Saturday re-elected C. G. Colburn, and elected a first-time candidate Robert Jokisch to the board of education.

Unofficial returns were Jokisch 635, Colburn 530, David B. Pinney Jr. 428, and Harold Reiterman 244.

Reiterman was the incumbent, and had only served for one three-year term previous to Saturday's election.

Pinney, a Virginia druggist, was making his first attempt to capture one of the two seats open on the board.

Colburn, an attorney in Virginia, has served many years on the board, while Jokisch is a farmer in Cass county.

Highway Study Group Proposes Upping Gas Tax

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Highway Study Commission Saturday recommended Illinois increase its state gasoline tax from five cents a gallon to eight cents.

The vote was not unanimous, the Associated Press learned, but it was not announced.

The three-cent boost was supposed to increase income by about $108 million a year.

The aggregate of all revenue measures proposed was expected to be about $200 million a year.

Members said informally the commission also recommended: Diesel fuel taxes be increased to one cent higher than gasoline taxes.

A flat $24 registration fee for autos instead of the present range of fees from $6.50 to $22.50.

Truck license fees be hiked 50 per cent for trucks under 24,000 pounds; 10 per cent up to 36,000 pounds; and 30 per cent for heavier vehicles.

Creation of a board to classify roads as state or local government responsibility.

Members would be from the state department of public works, one from each Chicago, Cook County, downstate cities, and downstate counties.

Setting up a board or commission to establish priority on road construction.

The recommendations, still incomplete, developed from a four year study by a private engineering firm which cost about a half million dollars and from work of a legislator-public commission.

The commission was scheduled to make its final recommendations to the legislature by next weekend but has not yet submitted a formal report.

The present 5 cent state motor fuel tax grossed $192 million in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1966.

The study group reported Illinois must spend upwards of $23 billion on highways in the next 20 years to bring them up to reasonable condition.

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter early Thursday, April 6th, to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Merrill of Fair Haven, Vermont. Mrs. Merrill is the former Becky Fortado, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fortado of Jacksonville. This is the couple's first child. The father is basketball and baseball coach at the Castleton State College in Vermont.

Martin Wohlers Of Chapin Area Dies At Age 63

Martin H. Wohlers, 63-year-old Chapin area farmer, passed away at 12:15 p.m. Saturday, minutes after being admitted to Passavant hospital.

He was born in Morgan County Sept. 4, 1903; son of Martin and Margaret Heminghaus Wohlers.

He leaves two sisters, Ada and Lariena Wohlers, both at home; two brothers, Louis of Jacksonville and Raymond of Meredosia.

One brother, Arthur, preceded him in death.

Mr. Wohlers was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The body was taken to the Williamson Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Louisiana, Mo.

Ready For Flood

ST. LOUIS (AP) — U.S. Weather Bureau predictions indicate a stage of 19 feet, four feet above flood stage, on the Mississippi River at Louisiana, Mo., April 20, Army Engineers said Friday.

Col. Edwin R. Decker, chief of the U.S. Army Engineer District at St. Louis, said a flood fight center will be activated in the St. Louis District office when the stage at Louisiana reaches 16 feet.

Decker said at that time, field parties will be sent to scout the areas expected to be affected.

Decker said owners of cottages in the flood plain, marina and boat dock operators and boat owners should take whatever precautionary measures they feel are appropriate.

WINDOWS REPORTED BROKEN SATURDAY

An agent for the G M & O railroad reported an act of vandalism to city police at about 7:45 a.m. Saturday.

The man said several windows had been broken on the west side of a watchman's office building at the East State railroad crossing.

The incident is under investigation.

Kerner, Arrington In 'Egg, Chicken' Feud

By LARRY KRAMP

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — There's a "which comes first—the chicken or the egg?" question in the Illinois Legislature about who really hatched some of the big programs.

A week ago, for example, Republican Senate leaders proposed a $750 million bond issue for water pollution control.

Then Democrat Gov. Otto Kerner came in with a proposed billion dollar bond issue for air and water pollution control.

Kerner's press assistant, Chris Vlahoplus, said Sen. W. Russell Arrington, Republican majority leader, has been adopting Democratic programs that Republican senators defeated in the 1965 legislature.

Vlahoplus said Arrington also was fathering new programs he learned Kerner was about to propose. "He's flattering Kerner by imitation," Vlahoplus said.

Arrington asserts Republicans have their own think tank and are hard at work putting their ideas into bills.

Besides, Arrington said, Kerner is sluggish about getting things done.

For example, Arrington said, Kerner announced eight weeks ago he was going to bring in a program on pollution.

"We waited for it for six weeks," Arrington said. "Then we brought in our own."

Arrington and other Republican leaders have criticized Kerner also for presenting programs one at a time in a special messages.

The GOP critics, who have found fault with Kerner for not presenting his budget by April 1, said Kerner is leaking his plans — which will be incorporated into his final budget — piecemeal.

Vlahoplus defends the special message technique as necessary for adequate explanation, for example, of an intricate pollution program that depends on popular approval in 1968. Kerner will come in with another special message this week on collective bargaining by state employees.

"You can't come in and try to sell people on a billion dollar bond issue with a two-page press release," Vlahoplus said, referring to the method of announcing the Republican pollution program.

Vlahoplus said the Kerner program was based on a three-year study by state experts who prepared a 400-page document. Thousands of copies of a 16-page summary are being prepared for statewide distribution.

"You can say he came in with a program before we did," Vlahoplus said, "but we came in with a program you can go to the people with."

"For this we are thankful," Vlahoplus added about Arrington, "he's committed to the program and something will come out of the legislature."

At Griggsville

A last minute write-in campaign for two candidates on the Griggsville unit school board failed to muster necessary votes, and the two declared candidates Dr. Richard D. Hull and Dale Windmiller won handily.

Unofficial returns listed Hull with 189, and Windmiller with 193.

Hull is a veterinarian, and Windmiller is a salesman for the Moorman feed company. Both were incumbents to the board.

A last minute write-in campaign was carried on Saturday by telephone in Griggsville. Gerald Wainman and Eugene Phillips were the write-in candidates.

Wainman polled 68 votes, and Phillips 51.

Both of the winners are from Griggsville.

BEARDSTOWN INCUMBENTS WIN NEW TERMS

BEARDSTOWN — In Saturday's election of school board members for Beardstown Unit 15, incumbents Andy Taylor and Robert Gillenwater triumphed over the third candidate, Nels Glesne, a Casswood Industries executive seeking school board office for the first time.

Voting was spirited with a total of 1,164 ballots cast. Unofficial totals show Taylor received 953 votes, Gillenwater 784 and Glesne 409.

Heaton, Kurtz Win School Board Posts In District 117

A Murrayville farmer and a Jacksonville restaurant owner won election Saturday to the board of education of School District 117 in what was considered a heavy vote.

Ivan Heaton, 33-year-old Murrayville farmer and father of two children, won easily in the three-way race by capturing 1,049 of the 1,528 votes cast in the election.

John W. (Jack) Kurtz, 36-year-old owner of Howard Johnson's restaurant and father of three children, captured second spot with 821 votes, just 15 votes ahead of Bruce Campbell Jr., who received a total vote of 806.

(Complete unofficial returns by precinct will be found on page 7.)

The two successful candidates will take office following the official canvass scheduled tentatively for April 18, the next regular board meeting.

There is no confirmation that a recount will take place, although Dr. Campbell, should he desire, has five days after the official canvass to file a petition for a recount upon payment of five dollars per precinct.

Car With Seven Persons Involved In Auto Accident

Eight persons escaped serious injury Saturday evening in an accident one mile east of Meredosia on Ill. 104.

Investigating state police reported that a car, loaded with seven persons, stalled on the highway, and was struck from the rear by another vehicle.

The one vehicle, driven by John E. Brown Jr., 36, of Meredosia, contained Dorothy Brown, 36; Jack Brown, 7; Bob Brown, 7; John Brown, 11; James Brown, 16; Steven Johnson, 14. All escaped injury.

Officers said that Brown's car stalled on the highway, and was struck from the rear by another auto, driven by Louis D. Kemper, 32, of Winchester. Kemper sustained a minor laceration.

Troopers ticketed Kemper for driving under suspension. He was taken to the county jail where he posted $500 bond and was released.

Greene County Man Injured In Collision

A Greene County young man was admitted to Passavant hospital following a two-car accident at about 11:45 a.m. Saturday at the corner of Greenwood and Diamond in South Jacksonville.

Rushed to the hospital by ambulance was 22-year-old Ernest W. Ornellas of White Hall, driver of one of the cars. South Jacksonville police said Ornellas was knocked unconscious for several minutes and apparently suffered neck injuries. No report has been made of his condition, although it is not believed to be serious.

Police said Ornellas was northbound on Diamond when his car struck the rear of an auto driven by 18-year-old Philip Dennis, 314 Fulton. Dennis was stopped.

Both cars sustained heavy damage, and police said Ornellas will be cited for failure to reduce speed.

Three Elected To Greene Posts

GREENFIELD — Three candidates to the Greenfield community school district 10, all of whom ran without opposition, were elected to terms according to unofficial election returns filed Saturday in Greenfield.

Elected were Francis E. Steckel, past president of the board from Athensville township; Ebert E. Ferguson, Barr township, re-elected; and Dr. David M. Carlson, Rubicon township, seeking election for the first time.

Unofficial election returns were Carlson, 139; Ferguson 122, and Steckel 115.

Carlson, a Greenfield veterinarian, replaces Basil Price, a Rockbridge farmer, who did not seek re-election. Both Steckel and Ferguson are farmers, who have both served more than two terms on the board.

Voters cast ballots in Greenfield, Wrights, Athensville and Rockbridge precincts.

The new board members are expected to be officially sworn in at the Thursday night school board meeting.
